FRESNO COUNCIL

Boy Scout
News NotesTroop Five Elects
Set of Officers

(By Wesley McKenzie.)
Troop 5 had an election of officers of patrol leaders and assistants. Ben Stagg, being elected troop leader, while the patrol leaders are Floyd Green, Bernie White, assistants are Homer Calvey and Fred Gietley.

Visitors were present from Troop No. 6, and Scout Executive Henry Hopkins called on the troop. After the meeting having taken place with Assistant Scout Master Oscar Rogers in charge. A baseball team for the troop is to be organized at the Washington school. Arrangements were made for tenderfoot suits to be observation tests.

Troop 8 Forms
Baseball Team

The regular Tuesday meeting of Troop 8 was called to order by the pledge of allegiance. After the regular scout business, several boys took tenderfoot tests. Twenty members were present. The meeting was adjourned after a baseball team was organized.

Junior College Has
Real "Bal Masque"

The Fresno Junior College gave an original "bal masque" on Friday evening, the two winning make-ups being awarded to Henry Longfellow as "The Vamp" and Laura Curran as "Topey".

The entertainment consisted of "soap bubble" jingles on the faculty by Dean John A. Nowell; presentation of the paper medal in honor of winning the faculty race to Dr. Wallis by Jack Tolbert, and a ghost story told by Mr. Hawking.

Afterward, a dance was enjoyed.

TRUE MEASURE OF VALUEThe Wonder
A Store of Women's FashionsAND QUALITY IS THE HIGH IDEAL OF THE WONDERWhat Could Be More Fitting Than to Usher In November With Beautiful New Wintertime Frocks?A Very Select Group Of Excellent Furs

has been taken aside to participate in a little Special Sale, on Monday only.

—Their regular prices range from $165 to $210, and they will be Offered at $145 Each

For One More Day Only

—This interesting collection includes a Sable Coney Coat, Black Foxes, Black Lynx, Pitch Stoles, Lap Mink Stole, Hudson Seal Coat, Sealine Coater, Pointed Fox, Squirrel Stole, etc.

—This one price should be happily received by those who were not able to attend The Wonder's Three-Day Sale of Furs some weeks ago.

—Remember this price, $145, will be in effect for Monday only—at The Wonder.

"SWAGGER" BAGS, $15.00

—Vogue has announced a decided preference for these new "Swagger" Bags, so denominated because of their suitable, serviceable and altogether "swagger" design.

—They are designed of Velvets and Leathers and filled with swinging purses, powder puffs, and mirrors. Some of them have dainty silver mountings with little jeweled motifs. All of them are lined with beautiful fancy silks and are priced $15 just to prove that they are exceedingly moderate in cost.

—What could be more logical than that they should be assembled at The Wonder for you to see and know and possess?

AND just to give you a wee bit of an impression, please glance at the illustrations above, for they were sketched from a few of these new Wintertime Frocks that Fashion has sent to The Wonder.

FROCKS that have been designed with Personality and Charm, and Beauty in their every thread and line.

AND it may be a comforting thought to know that for a price as modest as $35, even, there are some perfectly adorable Frocks of Satin or Tricoline fashioned in the most engaging and distinctive new winter styles.

Yes, at $35 to $59.50

—there are beautiful Tricoline dresses in the youthful well tailored Coat effects—the Redingote and Russian blouse type and the simple straight lined models—and these delightful dresses are exquisitely effective with self-toned beaded motifs, Grecian embroideries, yarn and silk border designs, gold metallic threadery, knive, pleated side panels, vestes or Duvetyn and countless fascinating new Winter trimming themes.

At $35 to $47.50

—And soft lustrous Satin Dresses at $35 to $17.50 are expressed in the quaint surplined basque tendencies, the barrel shaped skirts with barem hems, the graceful overbloused ideas, the long waisted bodice and the youthful ingenue models, trimmed with Oriental flowered silk threaded in gold embroideries, Chinese tassels, ball pendants, clusters of tucks, brilliant two-toned silk corded girdles, scalloped elbow sleeves, rows of ruffles, silk embroideries.

And at $69.50 to $195.00

—we come upon these elegantly individualized Frocks of Wool Tricoline, Silk Crepe, Meteor, Crepe de Chine, Satin and Velvet that reflect the sincerity that has influenced their exclusive creations.

—Exquisitely beaded motifs of jet, bronze bugle and crystal beads, black designs in Indian bead work, Vestes of Duvetyn, encased in cross stitch gold thread, enameled wood buckles, vestes and collar of delicate faces, shirred seams, rich silk embroideries, all serving to accentuate their character and their ultra distinction and charm.

THE WONDER CALLS YOUR ATTENTION TO—WHAT IS UNDOUBTEDLY THE MOST WONDERFUL COLLECTION OF

Exquisite Handmade Lingerie

—THAT HAS EVER BEEN PRESENTED IN FRESNO.

—GOWNS, CAMISOLES, KNICKERS AND ENVELOPES SPUN OF THE FINEST IMPORTED BATISTES.

—AND BEAUTIFIED WITH THE RAREST OF IRISH AND FINEST LACES, THE DAINTEST AND MOST DELICATELY WROUGHT EMBROIDERIES THAT IT IS POSSIBLE FOR FINGERS AND NEEDLES TO EXECUTE.

—EVERY GARMENT IS CUT, FITTED AND ASSEMBLED BY HAND—EVERY GARMENT IS AN EXCLUSIVE AND MARVELOUS BIT OF ARTISTRY.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE AND USELESS AS WELL TO CALL UPON THE PICTURED WORD TO DESCRIBE THIS ELUSIVE FINERY.

—BUT NO WOMAN WHO LOVES THE RARE AND BEAUTIFUL IN UNDERTHINGS SHOULD FAIL TO SEE THIS IRRESISTIBLE HAND-MADE LINGERIE AT THE WONDER.

—ITS CHRISTMAS GIFT POSSIBILITIES ARE TEMPTING AND GRIPPING INDEED.

ANGORA SPORTS COATS

—Right in the midst of this vogue for Angora Scarfs and Angora Sweaters, Fashion originates its most delightful Angora creation—a clever little Sports Coat with surplined front fastened with a fringed braided belt that ties itself securely and snugly around the waist.

—In colors of Copenhagen, Heige and Reindeer with scarf collar of white Angora, they are simply stunning—at $25.

—No matter what your preference in suits they be, you should find it in The Wonder Basement Store on Monday, for $25.00.

Woodmen of the World Activities in Fresno

By C. L. SHIRREFF

War every worthy patriotic cause was financially supported, and one hundred members entered the service of the United States to fight for home and country.

The Woodmen of the World through its channels of organized benevolence is building homes for the poor and unfortunate, is paying off mortgages, feeding, clothing and educating thousands of children, helping the widow and making lighter the burden of old age. It stands for protection and loyalty to home and country.

The Woodmen of the World in thirty years old, and during its existence has paid out to beneficiaries of deceased members over thirty million dollars in the nine western states in which it operates. It has a steadily increasing reserve fund of about nine million dollars at the present time.

There are over eight hundred subordinate camps in the jurisdiction, and Mammoth, the local camp, stands in seventh place in the matter of membership.

FIND PIONEER DEAD IN BED

William Blankenship Passes Away at Age of Ninety-One

TULARE, Oct. 29.—William Blankenship, pioneer of the early days, who lived but a year of being a "forty-summer," having traversed and crossed the plains with an ox team, was found dead in his bed by members of his family this morning. Blankenship was ninety-one years of age. He passed away during the night at the Blankenship household in the Tulare country, nine miles southeast of this city.

He was born near Princeton, Mercer county, West Virginia, March 11, 1829. With his father, he journeyed over the mountains, riding a pack horse, to Texas, when this state was a wilderness. There he grew to young manhood and became a tiller of the soil. In 1850 Blankenship crossed the plains in a cattle drive and located two years of his life in mining and farming near Stockton. He returned to home and again journeyed westward across the continent a year later, this time driving a herd of cowboys and cattle. Again in 1857, shortly after his marriage to Miss Melissa E. Guthrie, he journeyed across the plains with his wife, driving a herd of cattle and horses.

Shortly after this, Blankenship settled in Visalia and resided there until 1874, when he moved to the present Blankenship home.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at the hotel, Tulare here, Rev. R. L. McMillan officiating. Interment will be in the Visalia cemetery.

NOBLES GATHER FOR CEREMONIAL

Five Hundred Shriners Reach Modesto on Special Train

MODESTO, Oct. 30.—Five hundred Shriners, hailing from twenty-five temples from all over the world, were in session here this afternoon and evening with a ceremonial and installation.

The Shrine Temple of Oakland was in charge of the day arriving at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in a special train with their thirty-piece band and gaudy floats. Six candidates from Modesto, Newman, Sonoma, Fresno and other valleys were initiated.

After evening the visitors were entertained with a banquet at the hotel. The new winter garden. Tomorrow they are to be treated to an excursion about the county and city.

Explosion Victims Suffer Severe Pain

VISALIA, Oct. 29.—George Reed, Frank Noble and William Gustie, the three men who were severely injured in the gas explosion Thursday morning in the fuel oil reservoir in rear of the Hotel Johnson here, are doing as well as may be expected under the circumstances although suffering great pain according to a report issued from the hospital today by the attending surgeon.

Lodge of Pythian Sisters Organized

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 28.—A lodge of Pythian Sisters has just been organized here with a charter membership of thirty. Mrs. Florence Lee of Tulare, district deputy, installed the following officers: Ruth Stone, most excellent chief; Hattie Sponsler, excellent singer; Viola Holey, excellent pianist; Mary Graham, keeper of records and correspondence; Cora Walker, mistress of finances; Jim Hayes, promoter; Earl Allen, guard; Ella Barber, Public Treas. and Marie Hazen, trustees.

The new lodge will be known as Callifornia Temple and will meet the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at Odd Fellows hall. There was a lodge of the Pythian Sisters here some two years ago, but the charter was surrendered.

Will Empanel Jury In Modesto Court

MODESTO, Oct. 30.—A new jury will be empaneled in superior court division No. 2 on November 2, by Judge J. C. Needham. The present venire has been exhausted for various reasons and it has recently indicated recent trials due to the necessity of getting more jurors.

The new panel will be made up of the following: Mrs. Anna A. Sperry, County; Mrs. Pauline E. Grimes, Justice; George J. Bentley, Esquire; V. C. Crocker, Esq.; George M. Wells, Esq.; John E. Sullivan, Esq.; J. B. Lee, Esq.; Modesto; Benjamin B. Smith, Esq.; Charles R. Wood, Esq.; Mrs. Gene Hatten, Esq.; George W. Matthews, Esq.; George J. Jenkins, Esq.; Francis M. Eubank, Esq.; Edwin M. Moulton, Esq.; and Edward A. Uhl, Esq., Modesto.

NEWS—MUSIC—COMMENT

FOUR FRESNO MUSICIANS

Fresno Symphony Well Organized

Mrs. Lewis E. Harris who is concert mistress for the new Fresno Symphony Orchestra is one of the leading violinists in California.

Miss Harris is a production of the New England School of Music and completed her music training in Paris. She has studied with Otto K. Schell, violinist, and with Felix Vassart at the New England Conservatory of Music.

While in Paris Mrs. Harris completed her musical education in Europe and studied with M. Lefebvre.

The Fresno Symphony Orchestra has in the person of Mrs. Harris a very valuable first violinist. Her experience in the orchestra has been obtained through such directors as G. M. Cox, SYMPHONY MANAGER, and Harry Hamilton and Henry Schenck in Los Angeles.

Mr. Cox is one of Mr. Townner's right hand men in the new orchestra, which has been organized under Townner's direction. Mr. Cox came to Fresno with a good preparation in musical theory.

State of Illinois Mr. Cox acted in the capacity of band leader and conductor and also harpist in concert work. He was for three years conductor of the Merchants and Manufacturers' band in Chicago.

He was for some time a member of the Washington Route Band of (Galesburg, Illinois). For four seasons he was harpist with the Phillips' concert orchestra, Chicago.

Since coming to Fresno Mr. Cox was assistant conductor of Tilton's band and has been in the first section of Leonard's Fresno Band.

GENTLE HINT

When Tommy went visiting, his first interest was the kitchen and what it was likely to produce. One day when he was visiting his grandmother, he found that estimable lady herself in the kitchen busy over the stove.

"What do you think I'm doing?" she asked.

Tommy shook his head and hoped hard.

"I'm going to make you a nice little pie in a jiffy," said the old lady, "but you think I'm going to take all that trouble."

"Yes, grandma," replied Tommy dubiously. "Of course it's a good good idea. But I was just thinking that if it's going to be any trouble, please you'd better make me one the regular size."

OF COURSE HE WAS PAINED

Principal Snyder of the Holywood High was discussing the problem of assigning the right studies to the right pupils and the proper way of grading the entire school course.

"Some children," he declared, "are brighter than others, while some are not so bright as others. It is the duty of the teacher to assign studies that are beyond their comprehension."

"Typical of this class was little Bobbie. In his Sunday school class, Bobbie had been told all about creation. Then they told him how the Lord had taken him to the ark and made him see the animals."

"The little chap was greatly interested and when he got home, explained it all to his mother."

"What about the ark with a pair of each animal?" his mother asked him.

"Yes, mother," he replied, "I was told that. I guess I'm going to have a wife."

Edward M. Drury, Pioneer Musician

Edward M. Drury arrived in Fresno thirty-four years ago. In 1885 Mr. Drury took up his musical work in the San Joaquin Valley. It was his intention to know that he was one of the pioneers in this field in California and that he came directly from Italy.

Mr. Drury was associated with the leading musical institutions and composers of that day. Mr. and Mrs. Drury with their entire family are rendering valuable assistance in the production of the Messiah, which is to be given during the mid-winter under the direction of the Evening High School.

The chorus of the different churches in Fowler and Selma are working under Mr. Drury's direction. In Fowler alone there are thirty members of the chorus with an equal number in Selma.

Mr. Cain, who is conducting the Messiah chorus and the Evening High School and that Mr. Drury's assistance is a very valuable asset to the development of the musical work, which is being organized in Fresno and vicinity.

A brief outline of Mr. Drury's musical career will be of interest to the people who expect to take part in the Messiah as well as to the other musical people of the valley.

Mr. Drury was a pupil of Dr. J. Varley Roberts who afterwards became professor of music at Oxford University. Among the large number of anthems and church compositions by Dr. Roberts is "St. Luke's Lord," which is sung over the whole world. It is interesting to know that Mr. Drury was with the composer when he was finishing the work, and that he was the first to play it. Doctor Roberts sang the song in his own home, while Mr. Drury was playing him a personal visit and the latter accompanied Mr. Roberts.

HEN-PACKING

It was a country town, and he was making preparations for fitting the fourth removal in about twelve months. The person happened to be passing and remarked:

"What—moving again, John?"

"Yes, sir," replied John.

"You are taking your poultry, too, I see. They will be getting tired of moving about so much."

"Getting tired," said John, "why, bless you, sir, they are quite used to it now. Every time they see a furniture man they run into the yard and lay on their backs with their legs in the air waiting to have them tied."

"Messiah" Now

Well Organized

Rehearsals for the "Messiah" which is given under the direction of Edward M. Drury, began Wednesday night. Judging from the number which attended the first rehearsal and the interest demonstrated by the musical people of Fresno and adjoining districts this production is bound to be a great success.

Rehearsals have begun and the musical public is asked to give itself up to this opportunity to enter the chorus. Every person who wishes to sing should not remain away thinking that there is no place for him in this chorus. There is an opportunity for every one. Regular rehearsals are conducted at the High school auditorium every Wednesday night.

Edward Drury has charge of the combined choir of Evening High School. Mr. Drury attended the first rehearsal with his delegation. In view of the fact that Mr. Cain, the conductor of the chorus has now started his work, and since it remains to be such a decided success it is now fitting to proper that some detail of his personal history connected with musical work, be given in this column.

Llewellyn R. Cain was conductor of the annual music festival in 1919-1920. The Maine festival included one thousand voices. In Bangor three days the following three days in Portland, Manchester, New Hampshire and Burlington, Vermont, followed, with the same program and artists three days each.

With the experience at hand Mr. Cain organized the San Joaquin Valley festival in the Maine Valley, the setting place of the famous authoress, Kate Douglas Wiggin and she was at all times a potent factor, taking frequent trips in reading excerpts of her books and leading much of her great energy into the established institution. The San Joaquin Valley festival at once became famous and Mr. Cain had such world's best artists assisting, as Mrs. Olive Fremstad, Mrs. Alice Nelson, Mabel Charles, Marie Sundeberg, Lillian Stralander, Ruth Merdman, Christine Schuler, Lida Shaw, Lillian, Charles Harrison, Frederick Martin and many others. Mr. Cain presented the National Bazaar, Verdi, The Star of the North, Russia, Last words of Christ, Fables, Handel's Messiah, Rose Malden, Cowan and many operatic masses, choruses, etc. The chorus were made up in rural districts of San Joaquin and until Mr. Cain decided to come to the Pacific Coast there was never a deficit and always a surplus in the Association treasury. On two occasions Mr. Cain brought his rural singing party to Fresno, for the musical and cultural courses, receiving assured commendation for their achievement. Mr. Cain has had broad and effective experience with masses of choruses and his entrance into California and Fresno opens the way for most effective festival activities.

Seeing a man crowd in the human sales, understanding its limitations and its many uses, Fresno will grasp the opportunity to build a musical center yet unknown in the Golden State. According to the record, the first real music festival ever held in California within three months after landing in Portia, December 2 and 3, 1919. This was followed by two presentations of Handel's Messiah in Portia, January, 1920 and one in Portia, June 1920. The Portia choral union gave two presentations of the lyric cantata, "The Midday."

WEBB SUPPORTS 3D AMENDMENT

Strong Indorsements Given Bar Committee By Local Citizens

A letter from V. S. Webb, state attorney general, commending Amendment No. 3, calling for slight salary raises for the justices of the supreme and appellate bench, to the voters of the San Joaquin Valley has been received by District Attorney C. E. Beaumont.

"Public officials and members of the bench and bar, more than others, realize the justice of the proposition to raise the salaries of the judges of our supreme and appellate benches, and it is through them that efforts in behalf of the proposed amendment must be suitably made," he writes.

"I have no doubt of the support Fresno county will give to the measure. It is one that should have no opposition."

The committee from the bar in charge of the campaign of education in favor of the amendment, has received from scores of prominent Fresno judges to support and present indications are that a practically unanimous vote will be cast here.

In addition to the bar of Fresno county, many prominent citizens, including the following, have signed a petition in support of the amendment.

It is the committee's hope that the amendment will be adopted by the voters of Fresno county, and that the salaries of the judges of the supreme and appellate benches will be raised to the level of the salaries of the judges of the supreme and appellate benches of the state of California.

I most heartily approve of proposition No. 3. It requires men of the ability to sit as judges of the appellate courts of this state. We can only secure such men by allowing them a reasonable salary.

I heartily indorse Amendment No. 3 with reference to the salaries of justices, the initiative measure amending Section 17 of Article VI of Constitution. It increases the salary of each justice of the supreme court from $3000 a year to $10,000 a year, and of each justice of the appellate court from $2000 a year to $5,000 a year.

N. A. KING, Member of Kingsburg City Board of Trustees, Kingsburg. The undersigned heartily indorses the initiative measure amending Section 17 of Article VI of Constitution. It increases the salary of each justice of the supreme court from $3000 a year to $10,000 a year, and of each justice of the appellate court from $2000 a year to $5,000 a year.

Woman Fire Victim Dies From Injuries

Mrs. Edie Simpson who was seriously burned late Friday night when a coal oil lamp overturned and set fire to her room at 225 N. 1st street, died today at the county hospital. She was 55 years old and was a native of Texas, but had been a resident of this state for the past 15 years.

At the Unitarian church, Tuolumne and O streets, tonight at 7:30, Chester H. Rowell, former editor of the Republican, and a nationally known figure in the political life of the country, will deliver an address on the twenty amendments that are to come before the people at the election on Tuesday.

A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Appeal from $7000 a year to $9000 a year.

NICHOLAS G. NELSON, President of Kingsburg Bank.

The undersigned heartily indorses Amendment No. 3 with reference to the salaries of justices, the initiative measure amending Section 17 of Article VI of Constitution. It increases the salary of each justice of the supreme court from $3000 a year to $10,000 a year, and of each justice of the appellate court from $2000 a year to $5,000 a year.

LEVI GARRETT, President of First National Bank, Kingsburg.

SOCIAL AND CLUB ACTIVITIES

SEASON OF GAYETY IS NOW OPEN

This year, the social season has opened earlier than usual. Housecleaning and winter shopping is for the most part in the back ground and the socially inclined, both young and old, are ready for a bit of gayety after their long respite from parties during the summer months.

Perhaps one of the reasons why entertaining has been done this early is due to the fact that several of the younger set have announced their engagements. Almost before we were settled at home after our holidays came the wedding of Miss Helen Clark and E. C. Balam, with the attendant festivities. Miss Florence Lockwood, whose marriage to Robert Sparks was an event of October, also came in for her share of parties. Miss Edith Harvey, who was married to Donald Gibson of New York only last week, gave her friends a very short time to do things for her as she announced her engagement only a fortnight ago. Miss Anne Everside, the fiancee of William Sample, and Miss Thelma Morgan who is to marry Knox Blasingame November 27, are both receiving many attentions and courtesies from their friends. Miss Harriet Crawford is the latest to announce her engagement. Callahan McCallan is to be the fortunate man in this case.

There, besides these parties, others have been given for visitors in our midst. Mrs. Herbert Schaffner of Philadelphia who was the guest of Mrs. Harry Gregory, gave many friends white horses. She was now gone to Del Monte and San Francisco where she will meet her husband. They plan to pay a return visit in Fresno this week. Miss Betty Garden arrived yesterday from her home in San Francisco to visit Mrs. Edith Campbell Clark and her visit doubtless will be a round of pleasures. Miss Garden only recently returned from an extended trip east.

Mrs. C. C. Lovitt is a popular visitor who will spend some time at the home of Mrs. Frank Short. Mrs. Her of Springfield, Mo., will arrive this morning to visit her cousin, Dr. J. E. Maupin, and family. She will be the guest of honor at a bridge party which her hosts are giving Friday night.

The Sunnyside Country Club has given a number of delightful affairs. Mrs. E. P. Shepherd is the active chairman of the entertainment committee, and it was largely due to her efforts that the dancing party given last night was such a marked success. All the guests went in fancy masquerade costumes, and a spirit of informality prevailed. Effective decorations in keeping with the Halloween season were used. The supper served at 11 o'clock, also carried out the idea popular at Halloween.

The Charity Card party to be given by the Fresno Relief Society November 17, at the Fresno Hotel is awakening interest among a large circle. Tables are being sold rapidly and the success of the party is assured. Mrs. Arthur Anderson is president of the society and Mrs. Emil Gundelfinger, whose picture appears today, is vice president. This society is a place of its own in the community. Their aim is to help needy people, and thereby a day passes without having their resources called upon. Every thing, practically, is done to put into the society is used for helping someone, for there are no overhead expenses. The good they do is varied. Each month, the society makes a certain amount to $50 or $100. A certain sum is given each month to the Travelers Aid, people in need of rest are sometimes sent to some resort, cases of deformity are helped, the physical bills being paid, or artificial limbs provided. Each Christmas time, many homes are made bright and happy by receiving a well filled basket from this society. The baskets contain not only good things for the Christmas dinner, but, toys for the children, and bits of warm clothing.

The annual Chrysanthemum Fete is another party which is being anticipated. It will be given the middle of the month in the Municipal Auditorium under the direction of the St. James Guild. All sorts of booths will be arranged, and in the evening, a dancing will be a popular feature. A large number of patrons are expected to attend and are sponsoring the affair.

SHADOWLAWN HALLOWEEN PARTY

Shadowlawn, the beautiful suburban home of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker was last night the scene of a delightful Halloween party when Evelyn and Robert Walker entertained a large number of their friends. The guests were retired in masquerade costumes, and enjoyed the hours in games and dancing. The rooms were appropriately decorated with Halloween novelties. Refreshments were served at three round tables, each decorated with pumpkins, witches, black cats, bats, etc. The guests included Judith Rowen, Anne Doyle, Miriam Delk, Nancy Bailey, Marguerite Bailey, Dorothy Minard, Betty Minard, Dorothy Thompson, Katherine Miles, Nellie White, Katherine Chittenden, Margaret Bullard, Virginia Sample, Barbara Davis, Mildred Holden, Ernestine Holland, and Delmer McMillan. Lawrence Drage, H. M. Johnston, Jr., Butler Minor, Jr., Manson P. McCormick, Jr., Jack Bullard, Conrad Bullard, Eddie Bullard, Fred Swartz, Douglas Winne, Kent Cross, Emory Davis, Bob Curtis.

OUT-OF-TOWN VISITOR DINNER GUEST

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Clark entertained at dinner last evening at their home on Van Ness avenue in honor of Miss Betty Garden of San Francisco, who arrived in town yesterday for a visit. Others seated with the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Edith Campbell Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Carroll Tolman and Chester

ATTRACTIVE GIRL RETURNS HOME TENNESSEE

Miss Mossie Overton, who has been the house guest of M. R. May and his cousin, Mrs. Ruth Cuckrell, for the past four months, left early last week for her home in Cumberland Gap, Tennessee. During her visit here, Miss Overton has traveled over 5,000 miles by automobile, having visited the Yosemite Valley twice, going over the Tioga road to Lake Tahoe, then to San Francisco, Los Angeles and all the resorts down the coast as far as San Diego. Since her arrival here last summer, Miss Overton has made many friends for herself. It is possible that she may return to Fresno later in the winter, accompanied by her mother.

GOING EAST TO MEET FIANCEE, ENGLISH GIRL

Mrs. H. W. Richards and her son, E. T. Richards, will leave about the middle of the month for New York, where they will meet the latter's fiancée, Miss Almer Scott, daughter of England. Miss Scott will return with them to Fresno, where she will visit for several months.

A Most Astonishing Selling of Tricotine Dresses $29.50

- It's a special purchase of just 21 Dresses—and every one of them would sell at much higher prices if bought in a regular way.
- We took advantage of the manufacturer's price concession—and here they are offered to you at $29.50
- Yes, there are styles to suit nearly every taste and sizes from 16 to 41.
- Best selection, of course, for the one that selects early in the morning

BOLIVIA COATS

$42.50, $49.50, $55.00

- You'll agree with us, when you see them, that they are the best values offered in Fresno.
- Rich, lustrous Bolivias in browns, blues, tans.
- Every one of them lined with beautiful Satins or fancy silks.
- Many entirely new models with or without fur collar, some have eye collar and cuffs.
- You must see them to really appreciate the values.

The Very Newest in High Grade Suits & Tricotine and Satin Dresses at $37.50 to $89.00

- No one can or would deny the charm of distinctive dress—a striking costume may be elegant in simplicity or rich in elaboration, yet it will attract admiration if it be a "distinctive" creation.
- In this great city, where growth and rush are part of the very atmosphere, haste to satisfy public demand often results in strain for effects without much attention to the methods of attainment.
- The new creations in Tricotine Dresses and Suits that are on display are produced with the greatest care.
- Fabrics are the best, needle-work of highest character.
- Unusual taste is displayed in these garments—and we know you'll enjoy spending a little time with us looking them over.

SOCIAL DOINGS AMONG THE COLLEGE SET

Fresnoans are particularly interested this year in the doings of the college set, as never before has Fresno been so well represented at the different colleges as this year.

Last evening, the freshmen at the University of California, enjoyed their annual intercollegiate dance at the Charming Country Club. This is one of the few large formal dances given during the college semester. A dinner dance at each of the sorority houses was given preceding the dance. Among the representatives from this city who were present were Misses Marion Prescott and Helen Gray from the Phi Kappa sorority; Misses Laura Peart, Sara Parker, Elizabeth Warner, Delta Gamma; Dorotha Springborg, Delta Delta; Misses Alice Spake, Cornelia Brown, Evelyn Starr, Gamma Phi; Graycroft, and Mary Louise Fowler, Delta Delta; Misses Betty Thomas and Muriel Davis, Gamma Phi; Misses Isabel Seil and Maudie Holland, Alpha Omicron Pi; Minnie Burgess and Robert Pusey were recently pledged to the Phi Kappa fraternity at the University of California.

Donald Slater, who is a student at Stanford University, is a pledge at the Delta Chi fraternity.

CHILDREN'S HALLOWEEN FROLIC

Mrs. Ralph Watson entertained yesterday afternoon for her little daughter, Ilseletta, children enjoying all sorts of frolic suggestive of Halloween. During the afternoon, all kinds of good things to eat were served at a long table placed in the sun porch of the A. C. Wiseman home on Huntington boulevard, where the party was held.

ATHENA'S ENTERTAIN DELIGHTFULLY

The Athena's gave a very delightful Halloween party at the home of Miss Gladys Edwards, 1801 Wilson avenue last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. See were chairmen. The rooms were prettily decorated with autumn leaves and Halloween decorations. On the dining table was a huge pumpkin. After the rooms had been darkened, the light from the pumpkin gave a ghostly effect to the room. The fireplace was attractively decorated with cornucopias and scarecrows, and from the corners of the room hung autumn leaves and colored electric lights. Prizes were given to the best sustained chatterers. The evening was spent in dancing and appropriate Halloween games.

The guest list included—Misses Amelia Steinhilber, Margie, Elizabeth Frye, Prudence Spence, Floris Delaney, Jessie White, Nadine Harsack, Wanda Lee, Iona Gardner, Nellie Kellen, Julia Hush, Grace Giese, Pearl Sunderland, Lillian Scott, Mildred Reeder, Junia Comblin, Winrod Scott, Winnie McCarthy, Messrs. ## FRESNO BOY TRAVELS IN EAST

A letter has just been received from Roy Hasselbach of this city by Signa N. Treland, telling of a most glorious trip east. Some of the important cities visited were Los Angeles, Houston, Texas, New Orleans, Key West, then back to Miami, Jacksonville, Washington, D. C., and then to New York. At the latter place he will remain for a two weeks visit with Harker Jacobson, formerly of Fresno. From New York Mr. Hasselbach will go to Detroit, Michigan, to take a two years' special course in an automobile school.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON FOR BRIDE

Mrs. Harold Hughes entertained yesterday at a bridge-luncheon given in compliment to Mrs. Mitchell Briggs. The table was attractive with Halloween decorations. In the bridge games, Miss Blanche Yoro was fortunate in winning the prize. Among the guests called to meet the bride of honor were Mrs. Jerome O. Cross, Misses Nell Borden, Pearl Cassina, Maude Cassina, Frances Slater, Blanche Yoro, Adella Tompkins, Lillian Herrick, Alma Trabaca, Floy Long.

There's a Difference Between a Politician and a Public Servant

No matter what may be said in the heat of campaigns, every public official is not necessarily a mere politician. The public business is just as necessary, just as dignified, as private business. There are many men in public office who are rendering real public service. One such man is Robert Lochead.

HE HAS

Worked more miles of road, under the handicap of advancing costs of labor and materials, than ever before were worked in the history of the district.

Installed over 400 new bridges and culverts in the last four years.

Fostered action to take all County Institutions out of politics.

Brought about appointment of County Employees on the merit system.

Materially aided in stopping secret sessions of the Board of Supervisors.

Faced all issues squarely, openly, fearlessly.

He has been a poor politician.

He has been a good public servant.

HENRY WALTHALL

NEXT WEDNESDAY
Henry B. Walthall, who is to appear at the White Theater Wednesday night at almost as well-known for the excellent supporting artists whom he has surrounded himself as for his own remarkable gifts. The company which has been organized for his aid is generally regarded as the most complete and capable organization of players of serious dramatic roles, now extant. Qualities of intellect and good action are absolutely essential to secure proper representation of Henrik Ibsen's powerful dramas, "Ghosts" in which Mr. Walthall is achieving such wonderful results, since the works of the master Norwegian are ones that require not only original intelligence on the part of the actor, but a far-seeing and complete analysis of the dramatic intent, on the part of the director.

SPRITELY COMEDY

AT WHITE TONIGHT
When Phoebe, a wealthy New York society widow, found herself in the situation of having no more funds she suddenly decided to betake herself to a small village and assume personal charge of a general merchandise store left her by her late husband. The novel of Phoebe is recounted bitterly by many of the townspeople and particularly by the crabbed old owner of the opposition store who practically is the "head" of the town. When they try to force Phoebe to sell out and leave town she decides to "give them a run for their money" and the manner in which

GIVE DELIGHTFUL TALK TO WOMEN, CURRENT EVENTS

One of the most delightful and instructive talks which it has been the privilege to hear was given by Mrs. John Smith on Tuesday evening. The talk was on "Current Events" and was most interesting and timely.

The talk, last Tuesday was very complete covering the ground on various subjects. The political situation was most reviewed, and the League of Nations discussed.

The Russian problem, Bolshevism, who appeared before the Fresno Musical Club a couple of weeks ago was discussed. Mrs. Greenwood told us both in the hall and in the hall.

Orders for engraving Christmas cards can now be accepted at the Fresno office and at "One" Schapiro's Art Store, 2017 Taylor St., Fresno.

What N. O. S. C. Service Cards Are---And What They Do.

N. O. S. C. cards are issued by us at a very nominal cost and offer you a means of replacing the lenses of your glasses should they be broken within one year.

If your glasses break, simply by surrendering your N. O. S. C. card the original lenses will be duplicated at no additional cost.

One replacement cancels the card but a new one may then be purchased good for another year or until another replacement has been made.

We are ready to issue your card whenever you say the word.

BIOLA Townsite Lots

For about ten years this fine townsite has been in litigation. This litigation has been settled up and clear title can be given to all the townsite property.

Located in the center of the most prosperous Thompson Vineyard District, the most productive land in Fresno County, these lots now offer a most exceptional investment.

The California Associated Union Co. has one of their big manufacturing plants right in Biola, and other enterprises are now locating here, making the demand for building lots strong.

A Big Oil Company is in put in a large plant here in the near future, and every thing points toward the advent of wonderful prosperity, now that the litigation has been settled.

Guaranteed Plates $7.50

That may sound like a radical statement—but it is true. In many cases, death has been traced to bad teeth. A small cavity starts, ulcers form and poison is spread through the body, carrying fatal disease and often death.

Why do you neglect your teeth when such troubles are the result? You don't need to hear pain. We guarantee not to hurt you. You don't need to worry about the cost. Our charges are reasonable. The only thing that is to be feared is the bad teeth themselves.

G. O. P. VICTORY IS PREDICTED

Kern County Prophets Believe Straight Ticket Will Win

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 20.—On the eve of the electoral battle, Kern county, which in fifty-four years has twice gone Republican for President, is expected next Tuesday to register its voters for Harding, Coolidge and Shortridge.

The election forecasters predict a county vote of about 14,000 out of a registration of more than 21,000. The Democrats are second in the registration with 8,000 and the Republicans have more than 11,000 while those who decline to state number 1,805, and Socialists about 400.

Harding's strength lies in the farming and fruit-growing districts, and in the livestock sections. In Bakersfield, Harding will defeat Cox by a substantial majority. It is expected, in the oil fields, and among railroad men, voters, that the Democratic nomination will receive his greatest strength.

Shortridge will run strong all over the county, and oil men say he will lead the ticket.

The feature event of the campaign is the assembly fight, Frank Heck won the Democratic nomination for the assembly last year. He is expected to be defeated here, and he defeated her on a recount for the Republican nomination by a majority of two.

A white-in campaign for Mrs. Doris, who is supported by the organized farmers' leaders and by organized labor, has been carried on all over the county, and Mrs. Doris' campaign has been county-wide. She has spoken before many of the important women's organizations.

Political observers say Heck, who is a former service man, will win because his name is on the ticket in both major party columns. The voters of the assembly district, which has 2,500 white in its name.

In addition to having now the support of the Kern County Union Labor Journal and the other labor papers, Mrs. Doris also has support from the oil workers, which have 5,000 voting members.

For supervisor in the West Bakersfield district, M. P. Fickinger, local hay and grain merchant, is competing with Ira M. Williams, former deputy county clerk. The result will be close.

In the East district, Supervisor Abel won the nomination in the primary, and in the Delano-Kernville district, Supervisor McFarland won over four candidates.

The superior judgeship campaign is being waged between Judges J. W. Mahon and T. N. Harvey, and two attorneys, W. W. Kaye, a former superior judge, and T. M. McNamara. The result will be close.

Judge Mahon is running for his fifth term, and Judge Harvey has served two years and is seeking for re-election.

Congressman Harry E. Barbour, having the Republican and Democratic nominations for Congress, with the exception of Harry McKee, Socialist, is his only opponent.

Clovis Odd Fellows Planning Big Time

CLOVIS, Oct. 20.—The Clovis Odd Fellows lodge is planning a big time to take place on Wednesday evening, Nov. 2, when Canton Fresno team No. 30, will be here to put on lullaby agree, refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Joe Welch is entertaining her two sisters, Mrs. A. L. Crow and children of Fresno this week.

Mrs. J. H. Harris of Birmingham, Alabama, has arrived here and is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. Schaefer, Mrs. Mary Schaefer, mother of Dr. Schaefer who has been spending the winter here returned to her home in Los Angeles yesterday.

Rev. O. B. Russell, local Red Cross representative, has asked for volunteers to carry on the work at Clovis. Clovis quota is $1000.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blucher of Colby, Kansas, are guests at the home of J. A. Owens. They report that Kansas has had a very fruitful year and crops generally are better than usual.

Henry Hawkins and family are located on a ranch one quarter of a mile south from Jefferson school house.

J. W. Gibson was called to Tucson, Arizona, the first of the week by the death of the child of Fred Gibson, at that place.

Floyd Gibson is erecting a five room residence on his ranch property which he will later occupy.

E. R. Rogers who was called to Indiana recently on account of the illness of a sister, has notified his family that his sister has passed away and he will return home at an early date.

Flora Phoebe and C. Smith, of Kernman were married Thursday at Fresno.

C. F. Bell has rented his blacksmith shop to Joe Miller and will devote his entire attention to his mining interests. Mr. Bell will spend the winter at the "Ruby King," located on Lone Pine creek. He also has a mine about 15 miles from the asbestos property and has an order for 700 tons of iron ore from a San Francisco firm, which he will ship at a later date.

Supervisor Robert Lockwood made a visit to Clovis Saturday.

Col. Darlington and Mrs. Darlington of Washington, D. C. were guests of Mrs. J. C. Brendel the last of the week. They were here going over the Indian field, as Col. Darlington is supervisor of the field work of the western tribes, including Nevada as well as California.

Mrs. Edna Merriman, who has been ill for several weeks past with typhoid fever is now able to be out again much improved in health.

Surprise Party is Pleasing Event

TIPTON, Oct. 20.—Miss Martha Clark, of Tipton, was hostess at a surprise party given for Miss Estelle Kinkadee in honor of her twenty-first birthday. Thursday evening.

Dancing and cards furnished the amusement for the evening, while Mrs. Donna Clark Jr. rendered some selections on the piano and Mr. Ting of Tulare showed some of his clever sleight of hand tricks.

Delicious refreshments were served. Those present were: Messrs. Schell, Guy Riley, John E. Clark, Jr., Jack, Eugene, Gladys Brown, Harrington, Brown, W. V. Weaver, Frank Harold, Madeline, Donna Clark, J. J. Miles, Leabel, Kinkadee, Maude Eklins, Nancy Nowell, De Vore, Martha Clark, Thelma Mansfield.

LEMOORE, Oct. 20.—Fire destroyed the house and contents belonging to Geo. Maschmeyer at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Maschmeyer was alone at the time and cannot account for the accident, the loss is partially covered by insurance.

G. Schwartz of Stockton is here visiting friends and relatives.

PROPOSE LARGE RATE INCREASE

Edison Co. Would Add Seventy Per Cent to District Rate

TERIA BELLA, Oct. 20.—A seventy per cent increase in the cost of electric power, over the present rate, will be obtained for the Terra Bella and Lindsay-Strathmore irrigation districts, if the new schedule proposed by the Southern California Edison company is put into effect, according to Irvin H. Althouse, who represented the Terra Bella district at the hearing before the Railroad Commission in Los Angeles this week.

Pertinent points brought out at the hearing include:

First.—That the Edison company proposes to establish uniform rates for all divisions of the system, extending from Tulare county to San Diego county, a distance of 300 miles.

Second.—That the rates proposed by the Edison company would be a distinct advantage to southern California users and a big disadvantage to users in the San Joaquin valley, near which location most of the electrical power is generated.

Third.—That the rates proposed would decrease the general and agricultural rates in southern California by about 20 per cent.

The general and agricultural rates in the San Joaquin valley would be increased from 30 to 40 per cent.

Fourth.—That the rates proposed would add around 70 per cent to the cost of power for such enterprises as the Terra Bella irrigation district, which by reason of the large advance in rates, has been compelled to charge its water users this season around $8.75 per acre foot, with a large part of the cost being for power. The increase under the proposed rates, would be fully 100 per cent over the rates paid by this district in 1934.

Fifth.—That about one-third of the power sold by the Edison company in Southern California is utilized by the electric railways, and is being sold at a price which just about covers the actual cost, hence the users of the remaining two-thirds of the distributed load must pay practically all the profits accruing to the company from that territory.

Sixth.—That the Edison company demands an annual net return of 13.508,000, being 8.24 per cent on an appraised investment of $95,253,537. The Railroad Commission has ruled that public service corporations shall be entitled to earn eight per cent interest on the investment, the valuation of which is to be determined by the Commission.

Seventh.—That under the 27 per cent surcharge, the Edison company has earned this year more than a million dollars in excess of the sum required to pay a net return of eight per cent on the appraised valuation of its holdings, the net earnings being 12.24 per cent, or an increase of 1.54 per cent above the "legal" rate of interest return, as specified by the Railroad Commission. The Edison company promises to retain the surplus, rather than distribute it among the consumers who contributed it, making this million dollars the net earnings for a surplus guaranteeing annual dividends.

Eighth.—That the Edison company has earned this year more than a million dollars in excess of the sum required to pay a net return of eight per cent on the appraised valuation of its holdings, the net earnings being 12.24 per cent, or an increase of 1.54 per cent above the "legal" rate of interest return, as specified by the Railroad Commission. The Edison company promises to retain the surplus, rather than distribute it among the consumers who contributed it, making this million dollars the net earnings for a surplus guaranteeing annual dividends.

ART FOR PROSPECTIVE TEACHERS

The work in the art department stands out in the foreground of the Fresno State Normal school and is one of the finest equipped departments of the kind in the state. The pictures show a model posing for students as one of the class problems.

(By LURA ALYSE SCHRAMM)

In the department of fine arts, the state has provided the Fresno State Normal School with one of the largest and most complete of its kind, including a generous equipment, not only in the way of beautifully furnished studios, but also in pottery, bronze, textiles, prints and reproductions of masterpieces in painting and sculpture, making it possible to extend to the students an entirely modern and thorough training, developing taste and discrimination in costume, interior decoration, color and design, training ability in drawing, painting, art crafts, working with metal, clay and jewelry.

The aim and purpose of the department differs from most academic courses. A questionnaire was sent out inquiring of men and women in different trades and occupations if they had occasion to use what they knew of "drawing" in their business or course, architects and builders, designers and craftsmen of various kinds replied in the affirmative, but the majority of other trades represented said "No; we could worry along without any drawing."

Then these same people were asked if they had much occasion to "use taste and discrimination in choosing and arranging things attractively for their color and space."

The majority replied in the affirmative. It began to be considered whether good taste could be taught and way to show very good examples of how these problems have been met and to consider them from the standpoint of space, dark and light, and color. Making the study of the art department open to all lines of trade and occupation, adding in window decorating, advertising, selecting of materials and fitting them up attractively.

Need for Designers
Mrs. Alexander Lindshaw, director of art, recently prepared a bulletin explaining the department, in which she said: "The war is over, but there is an international struggle now pending for commercial supremacy. Therefore, American industries representing more than 100 trades have depended largely upon European schools to furnish designers of space art products—textiles, automobile bodies, silks, furniture, rugs, linoleum, carcases, costumes, etc. These designers are not needed in their own countries in trades and industries and are no longer available for American studios."

American industries must have competent designers or our commerce will be suffering in applying to that of foreign states, and will suffer by comparison in world markets.

Courses Offered
Art instruction is a subject, prerequisite to any advanced work in art, and the study of fine examples of painting, sculpture, architecture and handicrafts.

Art history and appreciation—covering the application of the ancient Egyptian, Greek and Oriental designs to modern craftsmanship. ## HOME INVASED BY FRIENDS ON BIRTHDAY

REDELEY, Oct. 27. (R. T. S. C.)—There was a delightful birthday party given by a party of friends, who gathered to spend the day, that the day was the birthday anniversary. The affair was arranged by Mrs. McCall as a surprise and was completely successful.

Tables were placed for "high five" the diversion of the evening, and later a little supper was served, an artistic feature of the menu being the ice cream served in the form of quite natural looking bags of chocolate cream, the look being obtained in the morning, a realistic touch being given in the spray of pink roses with stems and leaves all imitated in natural colors.

Paced with invitations were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Park, Mr. and Mrs. George Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klump, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Macdonald, Miss Emma Duffell and Mr. and Mrs. John Duffell.

Decorations about the rooms were suggestive of "Hollywood" and on the small tables where refreshments were served, roses and violets were combined with pleasing effect.

Building of pottery, decoration of tiles, casting, application of glaze and experimental firing of enamel.

Studio Equipment
The equipment of the studios, which are attractive and furnished, include a collection of pottery, textiles and reproductions of masterpieces that is probably not equaled in many even of the larger art schools. Here the department may boast in pottery, of old brass and copper burners, interesting articles of Egyptian and Danish ware, Persian bowls, in textiles, embroidered squares and stripes, Phylacter, East Indian, a number of Mandarin skirts, an old priest's robe of orange, lace made with pom-pom design, and a quantity of modern silks and prints.

Optim bowls, brass candlesticks, a small collection of hand-painted tiles and two large reproductions of masterpieces.

Commercial Work
A plan is being outlined whereby the students of the art department will take up the making of advertising buildings for firms as part of their school problem.

Condensed Fruit Juices in each Jiffy-Jell Dessert

Remember how Jiffy-Jell excels the old-time quick gelatin desserts.

Jiffy-Jell is a real-fruit dainty, rich in fruit. We crush the fruit, condense the juice and seal it in a vial. You get the delights and healthfulness of fruit, not a mere fruity taste.

The fruit is plentiful. We crush, for instance, half a pineapple to flavor one dessert. This is done in Hawaii—fruit too ripe to ship. The fruit alone might cost you as much as the whole dessert.

A bottle in each package

This is most important. People need fruit daily—real fruit, not mere-flavor. Jiffy-Jell serves it in delicious form, with a moment's trouble, at a trifling cost. Join the millions who enjoy it. Start this week and send the trade-marks for the molds we offer free.

Free This Week

Jiffy-Cup

An aluminum half-pint measuring cup. Fill twice with water to dispense one package Jiffy-Jell. Use also as a standard cup in all recipes. Send 2 trade-marks for this cup, postpaid.

Eight Fruit Desserts

Mint Jiffy-Jell

Is rich in mint. Serve with roast meats or as a side dish.

Lime Fruit

Makes a tart green salad. Mix with your salad, or serve salad in before cooling—and make a salad loaf. Or mix in meat leftovers for a meat loaf.

Eight fruit desserts are placed at your constant call. A package serves a family and costs a few cents only.

The desserts are light, as desserts should be. They are rich in needed fruit. And nothing is more welcome.

Jiffy-Jell comes ready-sweetened. It comes acidulated with lemon or grape acid. Simply add boiling water, as directed on package, then the fruit essence from the vial and let cool.

Made with style-B mold. A package serves six. In mold form, or 12 if you whip the Jell. And it usually costs less than the fruit we use would cost you.

You need it now

Now starts the great season for Jiffy-Jell desserts. Go get a variety. Then send us the circle trade-marks for the gifts we offer this week.

You lovers of Jiffy-Jell know its delights. You who don't know it should try it now. Compare it with the old desserts without the fruit in bottles. It will give you a new conception of these quick fruity dainties. With the molds we will send a recipe book and offers on all our molds.

Individual Dessert Molds

In Sets of Six, assorted styles, in pure aluminum. The six will serve a full package of Jiffy-Jell. Send 6 trade-marks for the Set of Six, postpaid. Valued at 60 cents.

The Fresno Morning Republican

FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1920.

ARGUMENT FOR STATE HIGHWAY INTEREST ACT

Official Presentment of State Senator M. B. Johnson

Provides For Sale of Bonds at Going Market Rate

The following, by State Senator M. B. Johnson, is the official ballot argument that has been made for the state highway board interest amendment, No. 3.

"The State highway bonds are now unsalable as the law will not permit their being sold at less than par. No state bond bearing but four and one-half per cent interest can hope to compete with the United States bonds now purchasable to yield 7 per cent, nor with the many excellent industrial bonds which are selling to yield 8 per cent or more.

"The initiative measure on highway bonds proposes to meet these conditions by the establishment of a finance board composed of the governor, state controller, state treasurer, chairman of the state board of control and the chairman of the California highway commission, which finance board is to have the power to adjust up or down the interest rate on previously unsold state highway bonds, and so as to meet the market fluctuations at times when the money is required for state highway work.

"The maximum interest rate which may be so established shall be 6 per cent, but it is conceivable that the rate at some future time may be fixed at or even below the present 4 1/2 per cent rate.

"Like other commodities money must be sold for when needed at the going market rate. Its value can not be fixed by state legislation and the proposed plan appears to be well within the scope of sound business.

"The finance board will exercise in an ex-officio capacity from time to time when the need arises. For such services no compensation is to be paid.

"The initiative measure will also result in the payment of 10 per cent of all interest payments to the state on account of highway construction. It is believed that this is a just provision.

"Many new counties have already had built and will have constructed within their borders some of the most costly roads undertaken by the state highway commission. These counties can not afford to pay the interest on the amounts so expended, as the present law provides.

"The state roads are for the use of all, and they are traveled to a great extent by people from other parts of the state, particularly from the populous and wealthy communities, and by thousands of visitors from other states. The use of the state highways by non-residents far exceeds the local use in most cases.

"The secondary roads are being built by the counties without pecuniary assistance from the state and the cost of this work is all that should be expected from the counties. The state should bear its own burden.

"Thus it appears that the passage of the initiative measure is of utmost importance at this time. Without it the state highway work can not continue. The state will lose a large sum, estimated to be more than $4,000,000, from the government in the matter of federal aid payments, and that money will be allotted to other states which are able to provide the state's share of the cost of federal aid roads, and finally much damage and loss will accrue to the state highway already built.

Use of Engine as Brake Not Harmful But Saves Brakes

Some motorists appear to have the mistaken notion that it is harmful to the engine to use the compression as a brake in going down steep hills. Shut off the engine and leave the gears in mesh, so that the wheel drive the engine against the compression of the cylinders. No sure that the throttle is closed.

This will help to save the service and emergency brakes from excessive wear. It is greater braking power than that afforded by the high-speed position of the gears is needed, shift into second or low, the braking effect being increased as you step down. Motor Life.

Westinghouse Battery Man to Visit Here

Percy S. Seales, general manager of the newly organized Westinghouse battery company of San Francisco, distributing the latest Westinghouse product—the Westinghouse battery—will visit Fresno within a few days to take up in person dealer applications for this territory.

Excessive Bending of Pins Unnecessary

After having slipped the cotter pin into place, do not bend the end against the bolt or rod. It is unnecessary to do this, because the cotter will lock just as securely if the ends are spread just enough to prevent slipping out. When the ends are bent considerably, it is harder to straighten them sufficiently for later removal of the pin, and, further, the ends are very apt to break off when the pin is inserted. In fact, the probable result that the ill-treated cotter will slip out, thus, instead of excessive end bending being an effective locking means, it is in reality no lock at all. Motor Life.

Form New Battery Service Company

Fred Pierina who will be remembered as a member of the local sales force of Chandler & Lyon Co., and later with the Spalding Electrical Company of Los Angeles is just putting the finishing touches on his new service station at 738 Broadway. He will have a complete equipment for battery service, repairs, and automotive electrical repairs. The station will be operated under the name of the Automobile Ignition & Battery Co.

Water Pressure Is Harmful to Paint

When washing the car, don't turn the hose directly on the wheels or body unless the water pressure is very low. Pressure usually built up by the nozzle is sufficient to mar the paint or dislodge it where the water is foolishly dashed against the surface.

The best way is to use a ball of water and a sponge. Then much gentler treatment of paint will result. Always be sure the sponge used is free from grit or dirt which might scratch the finish if rubbed over it. Motor Life.

Motor Sermons Popular Thing in Kansas City

The first church-on-wheels was inaugurated by the minister of a Methodist church in Kansas City, Mo. The venture was so successful that it resulted in a series of motor car sermons in different parts of the city.

During the summer months so many members of the congregation became delinquent and the number of motor cars passing the door of the church increased in such large numbers that the minister decided that he could not wait for the people to come to church, but would take the church to them.

Surrounded by a score of cars, he pronounced his theme "Difficult Duty." He drew a line between the power of the mechanical motor and the church. Every church must have four wheels ahead, but no reverse, and in the past the membership had been running in low gear, he said.

Never let the tires stand in pools of oil on the garage floor. Oil rots the rubber in time. The careful car owner keeps his garage floor free of water, oil or grease. Tires last longer as a result. Motor Life.

New Studebaker Is Attractive Car

The 1921 Big Six Studebaker is shown above in the seven passenger model. Studebaker, Elliott E. Bradley, local agent, calls attention to the several minor changes that add to the beauty of the car. The most notable change from the make of the 1920 model is the addition of a Yale Clear Lock, so arranged as to make it possible to lock the gears as easily as turn the ignition switch.

Ways of Quieting Squeaking Rakes

Squeaking brakes are usually the result of dirt or grit working its way into the brake lining. This foreign material presents a rather hard surface to the metal drum, and the result is friction noise familiar to us all. Usually the brake linings can be effectively cleaned with a wire, put in cases where the dirt is very extensive, a small amount of kerosene and castor oil mixed into a plastic condition and applied to the brake bands will be more effective in overcoming squeaking. Motor Life.

HERE'S a record! Reached in only eight years! A wonderful growth, and still growing! Not a one-time showing, but a milestone passed as the result of a steady, consistent climb, month by month, year by year!

More than a million dollars a month is being paid for Stewart Motor Trucks by business men and farmers throughout the United States and in 38 foreign countries. The figures for June exceed $1,000,000.

Stewart now ranks as one of the world's leaders in truck building. In eight years Stewart sales have jumped from $12,000 a month to over a million dollars a month.

Stewart Trucks have won—By costing less to run. The demand for Stewart is large, increasing monthly, yet due to our factory facilities and resources prompt deliveries are being made. Buy a Stewart and get a sturdier, simpler, simpler to operate, easier to maintain—a truck that draws no needless dead weight, economical on oil, gasoline and tires.

MANY USES FOR INNER TUBES

Worn Out Rubber Is Not Worthless, Says Tire Man

Worn-out inner tubes which are usually thrown away—into an out of the way corner of the garage or sold to the junk man deserve a better fate.

"Just like miffed's hairpin," says A. L. Madison, Diamond tire distributor, "they can be used for a thousand and one things other than that for which they were intended."

Properly patched and inflated, they make excellent life preservers, cushions for chairs, or swings for babies. If cut crosswise they make excellent rubber bands. Pieces of tubes may be cut with scissors and used in an emergency for washers. Strips of rubber for winding hammer and ax handles may be obtained by starting at the end and cutting spirally around the tube.

Innumerable other ways for using these tubes will present themselves once the owner gets out of the habit of considering them worthless. Even the valve stems may be used again to replace a damaged stem in a good tube.

R. & V. Distributor Is Fresno Visitor

Jerome E. Nottingham, president of the Pacific Knight Motor Sales Company of San Francisco, and wife arrived last week at the Fresno branch, enroute from Reot & Van Verloort Engineering Company, makers of the R. & V. East Moline, Illinois.

"The car is the two-passenger sport roadster, motorized with the only six-cylinder, Knight motor made in America. The trip across the continent by way of the Santa Fe trail was made very leisurely in ten days."

"The firm has just opened a branch in Fresno at 144 Van Ness avenue, and it is their intention to extend the R. & V. sales and service over the entire coast."

Mr. Nottingham states that the R. & V. factory is working full force to meet the demands of six-cylinder Knight buyers, and that activity is in a healthy financial condition, and there will be no reduction in price until labor and materials show a decrease, which is not expected before September, 1921.

Bolivia Will Hold Election in November

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A general election will be held in Bolivia Nov. 28, according to official dispatches received at the legation here, to select delegates to a constituent assembly which will undertake revision of the country's governmental forms.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 30.—Women voters of Kansas City, Kansas, who have married since registering or who may become married between now and election day will not be permitted to vote, Charles Scherer, election officer, announced that city ruled as their names have been changed.

OZOL SIGN LEADS TO RACES

T. W. Kennedy, general manager of the Valley Oil Company, distributors for Ozol lubricants, came near getting "pinched" for having his tall light and auto license number concealed, but when Officer Jack Devlin discovered that one of the popular Ozol road signs was responsible, he said: "Lucky you've got that sign on your car, so go ahead."

Preservative for Hose Connections

Preservative for Rubber Hose Connections—The rubber hose connection between the radiator and the cylinder jacket outlet and the pump connections should be covered with shellac at intervals to keep them waterproof and also impervious to the oil and grease that are inevitable around an engine. Oil and grease have a tendency to disintegrate and rot the rubber, but shellac prevents these materials from working into the rubber. Motor Life.

Slump in Foreign Lumber Causes Loss

SHANGHAI, Oct. 30.—Not a few Chinese and several foreign lumber dealers here were pinched in a heavy slump of lumber prices in September. In the latter part of August the price of Oregon pine, which had been fairly firm at $24.50 per thousand feet fell off to $20.50 and three weeks later the price had gone to $18.50. Improved exchange conditions, lower freight rates and heavy stocks in Shanghai were given as causes for the slump. Stocks on hand in the Shanghai yards in the middle of September amounted roughly to 30,000,000 feet.

Mexican President Is Taking English

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 30.—Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, is studying English, according to his private secretary, F. Torreblanca. Most of his textbooks are American magazines which Obregon says he reads to familiarize himself with English as it is used and not as it is "set down in academic form."

Mr. Obregon has said that his immediate object is not to speak the language but to understand English when he hears it spoken. He is able, he thinks, to understand about 70 per cent of what is said to him in English, if the speaker is distinct and unhurried.

In reading the magazines for their English, Mr. Obregon says, he finds valuable data and information regarding current events which cannot be found in book form. Secretary Torreblanca states the president-elect keeps him busy filing data gathered from magazines.

Sister of M'Swiny Is Nun in Tokio

TOKYO, Oct. 30.—It has been learned here that a sister of the late Lord Mayor McSwiny of Cork is living in Tokyo, retired from the world, devoting her life as a Roman Catholic nun to teaching young Japanese. She is a member of the French order of Saint Claire, which maintains a large convent not far from the imperial palace.

Japan Has Congestion of American Goods

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Oct. 30.—Congestion of goods at the water houses has increased so much that it has become a serious problem.

"The goods imported and bonded in the Yokohama customs aggregate something like 300,000 tons," said President Nishiyama of the Yokohama Customs House, "and this means an increase of some 100,000 tons in the value compared with the figures recorded for the corresponding period of the preceding year. Owing to the unfavorable condition in economic circles, there is no knowing when these goods will be taken out of the warehouses. To make the situation still worse, about 60,000 tons of goods from abroad are now daily unloaded."

Mr. Nishiyama added that there is every sign of withdrawal of goods by American consignees. This he attributed chiefly to the nervous and cautious attitude by American shippers in view of the reported panic in the Japanese market.

Name Italians to Serve for League

ROME, Oct. 29.—In addition to Senator Tittoni, president of the Senate, the government has appointed former Minister of War Bonomi and Senator Denicoli, president of the Chamber of Deputies, as Italian representatives to the council of the League of Nations.

Constantinople in Mourning for King

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 31.—Profound regret is expressed here over the death of the Greek King Alexander. Greek flags were displayed at half-mast on roads, Greek shops, official buildings, schools and churches, and bells tolled after the news became current.

Steam-Carburetor Latest Invention

One of the most interesting things that has been produced lately is the automatic steam carburetor. It is a self-heating device that vaporizes a solvent for carbon. Live steam properly regulated and injected into each cylinder is the only way to get results, as combustion takes place immediately. When the steam enters the cylinder it softens the carbon at once and then the following explosion carries it out of the exhaust in the form of a gas.

Some tests are now being made in Fresno on this new carburetor by Hans Bros., who have been appointed exclusive distributors for Fresno and Tulare counties.

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Maximum of Comfort with Rare Beauty and Real Mechanical Excellence

Chandler closed cars, the big handsome sedan and the equally splendid coupe, appeal to discriminating men and women seeking the most comfortable means of transportation for their daily requirements in any season and any weather, coupled with assured mechanical excellence. They are first preferred cars among such buyers.

Substantial and durable in their splendid construction, most pleasing in design, lustrous in finish, deep cushioned and attractively upholstered in silk plush, they bring to you all that you could desire. They are free from objectionable outside door hinges and mouldings that mar.

The Chandler Sedan seats seven in real comfort when the spring-cushioned auxiliary chairs are in use. The Coupe seats four in equal comfort.

Chandler closed car bodies are mounted on the one standard Chandler chassis, now in its eighth year of constant development and refinement and featured and favored for its marvelous motor.

These closed car bodies compare favorably with the similar bodies of the most costly cars.

The New Chandler-Price Eliminates Competition

For years the Chandler has held the lead for real quality at the fairest price. The new Chandler price puts it in a position of being without competition. Any other car which may be compared with the Chandler is priced at hundreds of dollars more. And some smaller cars which give you much less are priced but little lower. Chandler is the real first choice in the motor car field today. These are facts, easily proven.

VOTE "YES" ON NO. 9

How It Affects Vitrally the California State Highway Work

By CHARLES A. WHITMORE
Member California Highway Commission

If the people of California desire to see the State Highway program, contained in the $100,000,000 bond issue which they authorized on July 1, 1919, to a vote of every voter, they should vote "yes" on the proposition to amend the constitution in no order, to the effect that the State Highway Commission may make the bonds payable at all times of sufficient funds to meet the costs of highway construction as they accrue. The plan is a very simple one which has proved satisfactory in Oregon and several other states. Amendment No. 9 creates a State Highway Finance Board consisting of the Governor, Controller, Treasurer, Chairman of the State Board of Control and Chairman of the California Highway Commission which serves without compensation or expense. When the highway work requires the sale of a bond of $100,000,000, it becomes the duty of this board to fix the interest rate and offer the bonds for sale. If the board determines, after investigation of bond market conditions, that a 4 1/2 per cent state highway bond will sell at par, it fixes the interest rate for this $100,000,000 bond at that figure. However, if it requires a 5 per cent or 6 per cent bond to sell, the board may fix that rate, or any other rate not exceeding 6 per cent, which is the maximum allowed under the amendment. On the other hand, if bond conditions improve so that a 4 per cent or 4 1/4 per cent bond will sell, the board is empowered to fix the lowest rate that the market will absorb. It is not believed by those who have studied the situation, that during the period which will be required for the complete disposition of the $100,000,000 the state will pay on the average more than a 4 1/2 per cent rate, but the State will have a constant market for its highway bonds and any increased interest cost, even up to the maximum, will be more than offset by the ability of the California Highway Commission to proceed confidently with a timely and comprehensive plan for building the roads authorized.

The expense of the stop-skip system of construction, which has been forced on the commission by the "freezing" of its finances, is infinitely more costly to the state from idle equipment, increased overhead and stopping and starting of construction, than any expenditure of increased interest cost would be. In the building of the road to the people in failure to secure improved roads. When it is demonstrated that a mile of average improved highway will pay for itself in savings from saving in ton-mile cost of hauling over it, as can be demonstrated, the real loss in the power from failure to construct highways becomes apparent, and an increased interest rate paid on the bonds is but a small part of the loss. In a recent statement Fred William Richardson, State Treasurer of California, advised the people to vote against Amendment No. 9 because he believed that in a few months a 4 1/2 per cent bond again would be saleable, if so the amendment can do no harm, because the state highway finance board, composed presumably of men of unimpeachable integrity, would not offer bonds at a higher rate, but it was less than a year ago that Mr. Richardson was telling the California Highway Commission that its 4 1/2 per cent bonds would never sell at par until the United States joined the League of Nations. Now either Mr. Richardson's ideas about the League, or the bond market, have changed and if he was an unwise guide a year ago, by what standard are we now to view his advice? Furthermore, the plan of a flexible interest rate contained in amendment No. 9 was adopted on the recommendation of the State Treasurer, by the state-wide conference which proposed the amendment, where Mr. Richardson had the honor of first making the proposal which he now seeks to repudiate. In support of his position at that time he brought men high in the financial world to support his con-

American Women Get Positions In Japan

TOKYO, Oct. 29.—Two women graduates of American colleges were added recently to the four female consuls in Japan. Miss Fukuoka Hayashi was appointed to serve in the Social Service Bureau, newly created in the Home Office. Mr. Tago, the chief of the bureau, says women can pay more minute attention to details of various arrangements than men can. Miss Amakusa is a graduate of Vassar and Miss Hayashi of the University of Minnesota.

Plan Oil Station In Society Islands

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 29.—Work has been started by the French government on construction of a huge oil station on Tahiti, the largest of the Society Islands, according to reports received here. The station, which will supply oil to ships in trans-Pacific service, is being built on the coast of Tahiti, between San Francisco and Vancouver, on the American continent, and New Zealand and Australia. The station is expected to make regular calls at the Tahiti station for oil. Boats on the run from Australia to New York, and Europe via the Panama Canal, also will be served.

Three large tanks, capable of storing thousands of barrels of oil, are being constructed. The station is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

WEEKLY COMMENTS

PEOPLE EVENTS PUBLICATIONS

By Charles H. Shinn

The whole year has not produced a more readable and astonishing book than one which has been written by an English Missionary. Its full title is "In Unknown China: A Record of the Adventures and Observations of a Pioneer Missionary During a Prolonged Sojourn among the Wild and Unknown Nuts, Tribes of Western China." First published in London by the Service & Co., the London office of Philadelphia now bring it out in America, with many illustrations and three maps, at five dollars net.

This bold Gospel-carrier tells us little of himself, nor is he in the "White" World. He has written several other books, however. His name is S. Pollard, and the story he tells is truly a "something new under the sun" for the fierce tribes of Newland, who carry on blood-fights, descend like old Scotch men-troopers upon their Chinese neighbors, and are in many respects children of a far older human medieval civilization, are revealed in this adventure-crowded book.

Have we been thinking that no blank spaces were left on the world's map? This explorer finds one hither to unvisited, unexplored, and several times as large as California! He describes the people, their beliefs, customs, manners, and the Chinese, spoken and written language, ancient manuscripts, which but when studied make take us back to the very beginnings of Asiatic history.

Our author makes it plain that China possesses in these aboriginal hill tribes of the west, the finest sort of material for the future, if they are but treated fairly, given a chance, and brought into modern life in the right way. They need not be a menace to China, as some writers have said. There are many fine possibilities in these Newland "barbarians" and it is quite evident that Mr. Pollard understands them. May the years bring them a stable government and real progress without destroying their virtues and their strength. But this book lifts the veil from a hitherto unknown region in the heart of Asia, on the headwaters of the mighty Yangtze.

The London firm of Routledge & Son publish a "Handbook for Woodworkers, Carpenters, and Joiners," edited by the Conversation and Use of Wood. The author is Mr. Wren Wood, his book-nature is "Timbers and Their Uses," and Dutton & Co. publish it in America at $2 net.

What is there of importance to the average man in such a volume? Much more than one thinks at first. Here is a list of all the known woods, useful for any purpose, and extensive valuable notes upon them. Not a town in California is without its carpenter, builder, and amateur woodworkers who need just such a book as this.

Further Mr. Wren tells us much that is new and of definite value about how to test and season timber, how to select the best material, the sources, the decay, the uses, the pulp-making industries, the species used, where they grow, methods of manufacture, and future possibilities. There is also a chapter on the preservation and the insect pests of timber. The book closes with a short list of good bibliography containing such authorities as Bailey's "Silviculture," "The Trees of America," "The Trees of Australia," "Laslett's Timber and Timber Trees," and "Routledge's Scientific Study of Timber." All four of these, as well as Wren's book, should be in every carpenter's library. We have known many high school boys who took pleasure in such lines of reading.

There are some errors in this volume. The note on page 80 extends its range north to British Columbia, but this species does not occur beyond Cow Creek, Oregon. The insect pest in pines, of which he speaks on page 120 "a sawfly" is one of the seed-destroying "Chalcids," not at all a Megastigmus. Several other errors call for correction in future editions, but none vitiate the great practical value of the volume. We add that the series of 16 illustrations of woods, showing "the grain" are wonderfully done.

"Drama and Values" has chosen from the writings of American and English poets of today, some seventy six "songs of mother, father and child." They are from such writers as Christopher Morley, Josephine Preston Peabody, Theodosia Garrison, Henry Van Dyke, Zona Gale, and our Californians, Edwin Markham, Anna Catherine Marchmont, Charles Keeler, and Ruth Comfort Mitchell. From first to last this anthology is a joy to the reader, and will be used for years to come. It is indeed hard to choose a few of the most expressive bits, but here is one verse from Angela Morgan's "New Song to Motherhood."

O little son, O little son,
What glorious conquests shall be Thine!
What huge compelling powers group
And flower in thy Mother's brow!
What yearnings of the primal cause
Shall plead earth's higher law?
Thy tiny hands, like points of fire,
How they shall tell of love to bless the world!

What flame shall leap from thy small brain?
To champion the oppressed!

From the virgin-gold vein which so very few poets are able to find on Mount Parnassus—though it is there, we find these lines of Alice K. L.
Morgan's called "Experience," which so well sing.

"Deborah danced, when she was two,
as butterflies and daffodils do;
Spirited, frail, naïvely bold,
Her hair, a ruffled crest of gold,
And whenever she spoke, her voice rose singing.

But now her step is quiet and slow;
She smokes the way-purifiers pot;
Her hair is losing its lovely lit
And in place of her wild, delightful ways
A quaint precision rules her days.

For Deborah now is three, and oh, a
She knows so much, that she did not know.

This book from which we quote is published in a very attractive form by "The Woman's Press" of New York, has a colored frontispiece by the artist Clinton Brown, (costs $2
net) and is just the sort of a book for a Christmas gift to young mothers everywhere.

The Mesa Trail
—H. Bedford Jones, who is known to many Californians, is the author of this tale of the Southwest which is full of the charm and mystery of the "Great American Desert" and is published by Doubleday Page & Co. It is not strange how that same "Desert" which on the maps of 1820 was a thousand miles wide and twice as long as now, has been diminished in size, fragments of Arizona, New Mexico and California—and still our writers find therein all the romance and adventure of the years since the founding of Santa Fe, and the search for Cibola.

In brief, this novel is about a mine and some people on the face of things. The reader, if he is of a mystic turn of mind, will say at the end that the really important matters in the book are these—the seven stone sands of the San Marcos; that son of a Conquistador, Corvado; Tin of Sardinia;
the wealthy politician, local boss and claim jumper, and his satellites will interest a few readers. Broken-down stage actor, tramp and drunkard, Thady Shoo, picked up by the Desert and given a new start by Mrs.
Crump, is one of the best dorells in all our books of beach combing and other catways.

But after all this is said we return to the seven stone gods, and some cattlemen which these gods appear to have held in reserve—as Axel Dor-rains, the tool of Stockinavere, finds out for himself.

"Curly" Rogers, who writes this tale of the Arizona desert, is one of the best men in the cowboy field. Stanley L. Wood, who does the Remington-like frontispiece, also "belongs."
Little, Brown & Co., of staid old Boston, the publishers, have now a reputation for books of this kind—those which are steadily creating a large and stirring sort of outdoor literature.
For once, book is rightly named, as the reader is sure to feel as he puts it down. The book first appeared fifteen years ago, and has been talked about, admired as in its way a mysterious and much sought-for, so that this new edition meets a demand. As we have just hinted, the whole thing turns on "Curly"—the hero-heroes.

But all that belongs to the novel's main event. Chick-Lyle, the cowboy narrator, the English-Irish Lord Balphanzon, his son Jim, his life-long enemy, and as much as above, the outlaw leader, McAlmont, are strongly described and live as much as any of the epic heroes of Norse-land.

Of course the novel has been compared to Walter's "Virginian." If anything in the book comes up to the best of that classic, it is the right-famous death-minute between Michael Ryan and Balphanzon—oh, later, the wind-up of the son of Ryan and the "play of Chick Lyle Davies.

Wind-blown "Jan"
Miss M. Morgan Gibbon, the well-known newspaperman and novelist, has written her first book, a rapturous book, the tale of Jan Owen,
the daughter of a wild-headed family. How she grows up, fights her way, gets an education, faces everything first and small, with her full share of blunders and misapprehen-sions, but always in her own disconcerting manner, and how happiness
comes to her at the last minute, make one of the season's most worth-while novels.

There is no resemblance between this author's work and "brother's," but she has made as much of a
"first novel" start in a literary career with "Jan" as he did with "Sons in Bondage" a few years ago. She dedicates the book to "Mother and Dad,"
the father of these two novels is,
we think, an English Moravian missionary.

land of strange beliefs and strange events. Whether it bags a sufficient faith in the weird, ancient, the mysterious depths which lie beneath our everyday selves, will be profoundly moved by the story told in this new book by Francis Brett Young and R.
Brett Young, which the Duttons publish.

Captains are entering a great winter-dorm in South Wales, destroying nature, crashing in upon ancient follows, disturbing the old time gods
and those who still in their inner hearts believe as did their ancestors.
Therefore, begins war between prehistoric pagan forces and a blooded modernity, in which men of letters,
of education, of strong wills go down
to mental ruin and sudden death, in which the last of them, Furze, in the snow and mountain, sees "the vast lake emptying itself in foamy masses above the broken masonry of the dam." The gods which were before the pyramids, the masts of Aegon, Blackwood's, tales, the unseen forces of which Thomas Narhorne wrote, have won, and silence
resumes her sway.

There is terror and a certain shock in such a tale, so that only level-headed people can afford to read it.
But it is told with literary skill, in which the last of them, Furze, in the snow and mountain, sees "the
vast lake emptying itself in foamy
masses above the broken masonry of the dam." The gods which were before the pyramids, the masts of Aegon, Blackwood's, tales, the
unseen forces of which Thomas Nar-
horne wrote, have won, and silence
resumes her sway.

Not so strange
William Gage's novel, "The Strangeness of Noel Cartier," is the life-story of a man who is a very small potato, who marries a vulgar
little wife, lives on her money, pities
himself, and, thinks to his literary talents, determines to write a great pantheistic.

known newspaperman and novel-
ist, has written her first book, a rapturous book, the tale of Jan Owen,
the daughter of a wild-headed family. How she grows up, fights her way, gets an education, faces everything first and small, with her full
share of blunders and misapprehen-
sions, but always in her own discon-
certing manner, and how happiness
comes to her at the last minute, make one of the season's most worth-while novels.

There is no resemblance between
this author's work and "brother's," but she has made as much of a
"first novel" start in a literary career
with "Jan" as he did with "Sons in Bondage" a few years ago. She dedicates the book to "Mother and Dad,"
the father of these two novels is,
we think, an English Moravian missionary.

land of strange beliefs and strange
events. Whether it bags a sufficient faith in the weird, ancient, the mysterious depths which lie beneath our everyday selves, will be profoundly
moved by the story told in this new book by Francis Brett Young and R.
Brett Young, which the Duttons publish.

Captains are entering a great winter-dorm in South Wales, destroying nature, crashing in upon ancient follows, disturbing the old time gods
and those who still in their inner hearts believe as did their ancestors.
Therefore, begins war between prehistoric pagan forces and a blooded modernity, in which men of letters,
of education, of strong wills go down
to mental ruin and sudden death, in which the last of them, Furze, in
the snow and mountain, sees "the
vast lake emptying itself in foamy
masses above the broken masonry of
the dam." The gods which were before the pyramids, the masts of

William Gage's novel, "The Strangeness of Noel Cartier," is the life-story of a man who is a very small potato, who marries a vulgar
little wife, lives on her money, pities
himself, and, thinks to his literary talents, determines to write a
great pantheistic.

It has been our aim from the first to earn for this Company and the Nash Six the confidence of motor car buyers

We wanted more and more people to feel that this is a good company to do business with; one that manufactures efficiently and honestly; prices its cars honestly and gives good service to its owners.

To that end we devoted all of our resources and energies.

Year by year a constantly increasing number of people have come to regard this company and its product in just that way.

Nash owners have learned to know the Nash Six as a car of uncommon goodness. They have for it that friendly, enthusiastic regard which good service merits and earns.

And we feel that today, in these unsettled conditions, the sound policies of the Nash Motors Co. and the exceptional worth of the Nash Six are apparent to a widening circle.

Those who know this company best know the principles that guide us—our determination to build a big business on a solid foundation; to win confidence and good will by making a thoroughly good product and by selling it at the lowest possible cost.

Vote for Ballot No. 13

By the Community Property Committee, Women's Legislative Council.

The women's legislative council of the Community Property Committee present the following answers to the arguments which are made against the Community Property bill to be voted upon in November:

"In the first place they say, 'It will take your credit in two—ask your banker.' Should you ask anyone else who has read the bill they would tell you most emphatically that it would not, because under the proposed law, the entire community property either in the event of the death of the wife, or death of the husband, is liable for any debt contracted by the husband.

"Second: They say it will decrease the wife's estate through probate proceedings. This is absolutely untrue, as the only time a wife will have to probate her estate will be upon the husband's death. Under the present law, on a $10,000 estate she pays $150. Under the proposed law, she will pay but $30, saving the wife just half the attorney's fees.

"Third: 'If a wife leaves no will, title to and credit of business are seriously clouded and impaired.' How this is to be brought about, the opponents fail to tell us. If a wife leaves no will, the entire community property, under the proposed law, goes to the husband, as it does under the present law, without being probated. There is no more clouded title being clouded and credit being impaired than there is under the present law.

Negro Boys Find $200,000 in Checks

OKMULGEE, Okla., Oct. 30.—Two negro boys playing in an Indian cemetery just north of Okmulgee today found a mail pouch containing scores of letters, in some of which were checks aggregating $200,000. The pouch had been striped open and the letters were strewn about an Indian grave.

The police learned that nearly every bank in Okmulgee had received telegrams from their correspondents in Kansas City today advising them that their Monday remittances had not been received. Until these telegrams were received post office officials had not known that the pouch was missing.

W. H. B. Johnston, an Oklahoma City post office inspector, learned that the pouch had been taken from a truck just before it was due to be placed on a Pullman train for Kansas City last Monday night.

The checks were found in a pile, having been taken from the envelope. They were soaked with rain.

French "Bluebeard" Gets Four Years

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Judgment was rendered today convicting Bond Landru on the charge of swindling and of being a habitual criminal, and he was sentenced to four years imprisonment and subsequent deportation.

The prosecutor announced that Landru might not be tried on the murder charges growing out of the disappearance of his wife, a woman to whom he was said to have promised marriage. This will be decided shortly. Since his arrest two years ago Landru has been allotted to as a "notorious" bluebeard.

SOUTH AMERICAN EXPEDITION BACK

Dr. Berry States That Country Connected With Antarctic

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 30.—Results of the George Huntington Williams memorial expedition to South America, which was sent to Chile, Bolivia and Peru in April 1919, by the Johns Hopkins university for the purpose of investigating the history of the Andes mountains and searching for prehistoric remains which would tend to throw light upon the early history of South America, were made public by Edward W. Berry, of the Department of Geology.

One of the most interesting discoveries the expedition made was undoubtedly evidence that South America was connected with the Antarctic region by land masses that sunk below the sea ages ago. Dr. Berry said that the discovery of animal and vegetable fossils on the mainland of South America and the same varieties of fossils in the land around the South Pole, and also the character of the rocks in both South that the two land masses were formerly connected.

Among other interesting discoveries was that the Andes mountains, about which little had been known before, were from five to twenty million years younger than the rocks around Baltimore. Dr. Berry said that the Andes were of the same age as the rocks of the Appalachian mountains of about five million years old.

The Eastern range of the mountains was of the paleozoic, shurian and devonian ages, and were formed about twenty million years ago. The actual uplift into mountains occurred in very recent times, probably not long before the men of the old stone age appeared in Europe. He said that geologically speaking, the Andes are the youngest large mountain system in the world.

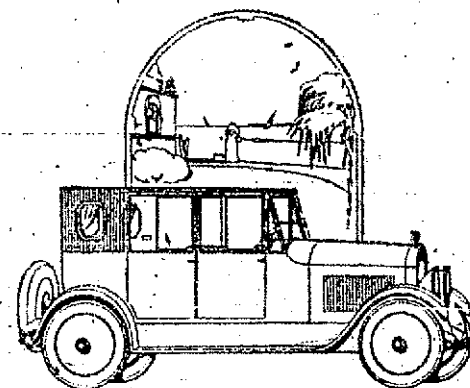

Included in the numerous scientific specimens and fossil remains which the expedition brought home are large numbers of fossil sea shells found on the coast of the Andes, indicating that the coast land of the mountains was once submerged below the level of the sea. Remains of a fossil flora, such as enormous ferns, and other plants of the carboniferous age which help to indicate the coal belt of the region were found. A few specimens of large land animals, such as huge ground sloths, saber-tooth tigers and other animals of a recent age were found, but practically none of the antelopes, reptiles and birds were discovered.

Japan Interested In Vanderlip Russ Deal

TOKYO, Oct. 30.—The report that Washington D. Vanderlip, of California, had secured a loan of $100,000,000 from the Japanese government for the purpose of developing the Siberian railway has created interest in Japan. The foreign office is quoted as declaring that it has received no direct confirmation of the granting of the concessions, but that it appears from advice received from the United States there is some truth in the reports.

W. C. T. U. Organizes In the Philippines

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 30.—Temporary organization of a Philippine branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, has been effected here by the appointment of committees to nominate officers of the local branch and to draft a constitution. It was announced that the chief purpose of the branch is to bring about prohibition of the liquor traffic in the Philippine islands.

Automatic Steam Carburetor

ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED

Every Automatic Steam Carburetor is absolutely guaranteed as follows:

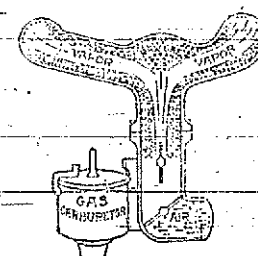

1. To be mechanically perfect.
2. To save from 25% to 40% of fuel consumption.
3. To eliminate carbon.
4. To keep spark plugs clean.
5. To stop the ill effects in all minor cases of oil getting past the piston rings of the motor.
6. To increase motor efficiency 100%.
7. To increase both speed and power of motor with a smaller consumption of fuel.

AN AUXILIARY CARBURETOR—Fits Any Car

The Automatic Steam Carburetor is used in conjunction with your gasoline carburetor and does not replace it. The Automatic injects live steam into the gas mixture, increasing vaporization and making combustion complete. As a result you get every drop of power out of your gasoline which burns clean and leaves no carbon deposits on the cylinders.

HANDLING AN AUTOMOBILE Interpreting Instrument Readings

By BARNEY OLDFIELD

every car are at least two instruments, but only two of such importance that their readings should be understood. Usually there is a speedometer, an electrical instrument of some sort, and an oil gauge. The latter two are of most importance. The driver continually can not watch the instruments any more than an engineer on a locomotive or a steamboat watches the various gauges. But the habit should be formed of noting the readings as often as possible. Usually there is a speedometer, an electrical instrument of some sort, and an oil gauge. The latter two are of most importance. The driver continually can not watch the instruments any more than an engineer on a locomotive or a steamboat watches the various gauges. But the habit should be formed of noting the readings as often as possible. Usually there is a speedometer, an electrical instrument of some sort, and an oil gauge. The latter two are of most importance. The driver continually can not watch the instruments any more than an engineer on a locomotive or a steamboat watches the various gauges. But the habit should be formed of noting the readings as often as possible.

The electrical meter on the dash is designed to indicate the flow of current between the generator and the battery and the load, consisting of lamps. The generator does not begin to charge the battery immediately upon starting the car, but sometimes in this aspect only after the engine speed has reached a certain point. After that, usually 12 miles per hour car speed, the ammeter shows charge and this continues up to a certain point, and then automatically remains at one point. At very low speeds the storage battery feeds the lamps and ignition, and at high speeds the generator feeds the load and when current is left is sent to charge the battery.

When the ammeter doesn't indicate at all when the car is running at a fair rate of speed, it is up to the owner to stop and investigate. A generator connection may be loose or broken, the ammeter connections likewise a fuse blown or perhaps one of the battery terminals has come loose or is badly corroded. Every electrical system has incorporated with it a circuit which connects and disconnects the battery at certain generator speeds. At low speed the circuit points are open, allowing the battery to feed the line. If this circuit should fail to function, that is, if at high speed the points still remain open, no charge will be indicated. If the points remain closed when the engine is running slowly or is stopped, the battery will discharge itself through the generator. In this case the meter on the dash will show a heavy discharge, and the indicator needle may wiggle slightly.

The danger in this lies in the heavy discharge, damaging or burning out the generator or armature. If this condition can not be remedied on the road, and the owner fears that the generator will be damaged before a garage can be reached, the generator terminals should be grounded to the frame and the unit allowed to run idle. Where fuses are used, the meter sometimes gives inaccurate readings, due to the fact that the fuses are not single in place or the fuse holder is dirty, thus making poor contact.

If a battery terminal should suddenly burn, that unit is disconnected from the charging line, and if this happens while the car is running at speed, the generator voltage for an instant rises so high that the fuses are burned out. If the fuses are on, then the lamp fuses burn out also. Sometimes after repairs are made, the meter will indicate discharge when it

Plans to Penetrate Antarctic Territory

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The first section of the British Imperial Antarctic expedition which left London September 23 plans to survey and map the western portion of the Weddell sea and to penetrate into the unexplored territory of the Antarctic continent. Under the leadership of John J. Cope, the British explorer, five men will go to the Antarctic from Christchurch.

After two years Cope plans to return and carry on the full program of his expedition, including the circumnavigation of the Antarctic and aerial navigation over the ice. During his absence his ship is being specially built and stored in England for the second expedition.

Smuggle Opium In Hollowed Ham Bones

SHANGHAI, Oct. 30.—Probably the most novel of the many queer methods employed to smuggle opium and narcotic drugs into the interior of China is that of hollowed-out ham bones. Recently when Chinese officers seized about 200 pounds of prepared opium that had been packed into the hollowed-out ham bones of a shipment of 300 hams that arrived as a part of a ship's cargo.

EGGS INCREASE IN N. S. W.
SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 30.—Eggs have jumped in price here, mainly because the shipments to the United States are increasing. The prices have gone up recently despite the fact that production has increased. All the refrigerating space on the steamer Sonoma sailing in October for San Francisco has been taken for egg shipments, it has been reported.

China Will Retire Depreciated Currency

PEKING, Oct. 26.—The cabinet has authorized the ministry of finance to issue bonds to the extent of 150,000,000 to be issued for retirement of depreciated currency of the Bank of China and Bank of Communications. Since these banks were granted a moratorium at the time of Yuan Shih-kai's monarchical phase, their notes have been exchangeable only at 40 to 60 per cent of their face value. It is the plan now to retire all of these notes in exchange for bonds secured by customs revenue surplus, bearing six per cent interest and payable over a period of six years from March, 1921.

PHILADELPHIA DIAMOND GRID BATTERY

The Philco Retainer

It is responsible for the superiority of the Philadelphia Battery

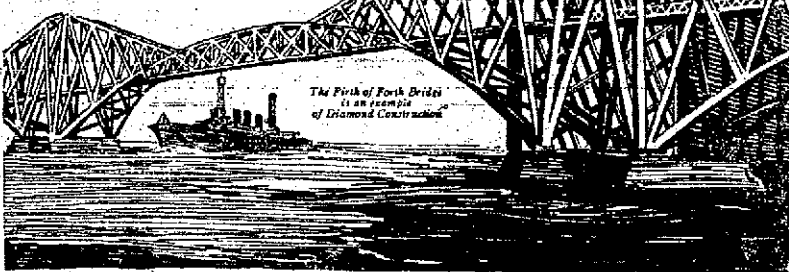

The Philco Retainer would lengthen the life of any battery and would make it possible for the manufacturers to increase the guarantee on their product—but this retainer is found in the Philadelphia only.

The active material on the plates of any battery falls off in time but this is greatly retarded in the Philadelphia by means of the Philco Retainer. The result is a remarkable increase in the life of the Philadelphia which makes possible the extraordinary guarantee of two years.

This guarantee covers everything in the battery and makes it the only battery for your car.

FINE COTTON IS GROWN AT KEARNEY PARK

Estimate Yield of 175 Bales; Gin to Start Up In Two Weeks

COTTON SCENES AT KEARNEY

By ROBERT H. NICOLL.

A visit to Kearney Park just at this time would cause former Georgians or other natives of the sunny south to imagine they were "away down south in the land of cotton," and hearing again the plaintive song of the darkies, "pickin' cotton, cotton, cotton, all the day long." Just south of California Avenue, and east of the first olive orchard on the farm, is a field of 200 acres of fine, long-staple cotton, in which from 50 to 100 cotton pickers are gathering the contents of the bolls which are now just beginning to open, and exposing the soft white lint to view.

On the ranch near the other ranch buildings has been erected a cotton gin of salvaged iron at a cost of about $15,000 and in this the cotton is prepared for the market. It is a building some 100 feet in length, and perhaps 30 to 40 feet in width, and in this is installed the machinery for the ginning of the cotton into bales. These machines are called gin stands. Last year the gin was equipped with two stands, and some have been added this year, the last two now being put in place. The plant will be ready to begin operations in about two weeks.

The process of working over the cotton, starts with the unloading of the product from the wagons as brought from the fields, into the warehouses, then forces it the remainder of the way through a distributing tape. This deposits the cotton in the various bins in both sides of the long hallway in the center of the warehouse. Each bin holds sufficient seed cotton for 10 bales. These bins are 16x14x20. After the cotton has been drawn into the bins through the suction pipes, it is dropped into traps over a pneumatic tube running the length of the hallway in center of the bin. Here the raw cotton is conveyed to the spinning machines, termed stands, where the lint is separated from the seed cotton. About 35 per cent of the lint and goes into bales, while 22 per cent is cotton seed. This line goes to the cement floor in front of the stands and is carried to the screw press where it is pressed into bales. The seed, after going through the stands, drops into a room conveyor and is passed by this into bucket cups and falls through a chute into a receptacle, where it is prepared for the market, and is ready for milling or planting the following year.

200-BALE CAPACITY.
The gin has a warehouse capacity of 200 bales of cotton. It is expected that the crop this year will yield about 175 bales from the 200-acre crop. The picking of the cotton in the field is done by white labor, under supervision of R. McMillan, as field boss. They are equipped with sacks six feet in length held in a shoulder by means of straps and drawn after the pickers until filled with the new California crop. When filled the pickers take the sacks to convenient wagons placed around the edge of the field, where the lint is unloaded and the pickers return to the field to gather more of the raw material that is made into cotton bales, mercerized goods, into clothing, etc., and are worn, mixed with wool and made into blankets and in various other uses.

The first experiments in cotton on this farm were made four years ago, but last year it was put on a commercial basis. A total of 10 acres were planted, from which 33 bales were taken. This year the yield and the acreage are both larger in extent. A cotton bale weighs about 500 pounds. The cotton average last year was 20

The Best Land Buy in America Today is in California

(This project has been submitted to the State Real Estate Commissioner and has been approved by him).
The increase in farm land prices which caused such a sensation in the Middle West during the war has not reached the Pacific Coast. Back in Iowa and Illinois farm lands topped $400 to $450 an acre and wise business farmers have been selling out and coming West to buy the cheaper and more productive lands of California.

Because this land value rise has not reached the Coast you can still buy good soil at low prices.

Double Crop Soil with a complete irrigation system is available in California today.

SUTTER BASIN COLONIZATION

Sacramento Project of 45,000 Acres to Be Opened

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—Following the completion of a $2,000,000 irrigation system and the building of the Southern Pacific railroad through the property, it is announced that the Sutter basin project in the Sacramento valley is to be colonized. The property, comprising upwards of 45,000 acres, has been under cultivation for three years and this season produced 2000 car loads of grain and vegetables.

Sutter basin lies at the confluence of the Sacramento and Feather rivers, twenty-three miles northwest of Sacramento. It is the last great body of an alluvial soil in the Sacramento valley to be developed and prepared for settlement.

It was seven years ago that development of Sutter basin was begun, the funds being provided by eastern capital. A large acreage was plowed to beans early in the development stage and at one time the basin contained a bean patch of 25,000 acres. Crops in recent years have been more diversified and have included grains, cantaloupes, cucumbers, asparagus, corn, sweet potatoes, lettuce, dried and green peas and squash.

During the last season much attention was attracted to Sutter basin through the activities of the California Vegetable Union in the north. Heretofore this organization, supplying a high-class eastern trade with winter and early spring vegetables, has confined its operations almost entirely to the vegetable growing districts south of the Tehachapi mountains. Most of its supply came from Los Angeles and Orange counties and the Imperial valley.

Last fall, however, field experts of the Vegetable Union became convinced that winter vegetables could be grown in the Sacramento valley as well as in the southern California and they settled upon Sutter basin for a tryout.

The Vegetable Union followed up this first planing by moving its main production manager, Paul H. Brown, from Los Angeles to Sacramento and is preparing to move a larger body of men next year. During the current season nearly 1000 carloads of vegetables have moved from the Sutter basin to eastern markets. More than 100 carloads of beans were shipped to California.

The Sutter basin company also planted a large acreage to Marlow barley, a new variety introduced by the California Agricultural Experiment station. A shipment of this barley to London, England, recently brought a premium of $100 a ton, when it was offered to the British navy.

Another bottom land development project the Sutter basin has a complete irrigation system with a pumping plant at Folsom capable of drawing 1350 acre-feet of water daily and two other smaller plants. Experience in farming of the last four or five years show that even bottom lands will produce more abundantly with water for irrigation. The building of the irrigation plant followed the completion of a thorough drainage system so that provision has been made against waterlogging of soils, a serious trouble in many irrigated districts.

Country Near Clovis Rapidly Developing

CLOVIS, Oct. 30.—The country south of Clovis between here and the San Joaquin river is undergoing wonderful development at the present time. Hundreds of acres of land are being leveled, which will later be planted in vines, alfalfa and trees and the country has changed greatly in appearance within the past few months.

W. V. Rudy, who purchased about 1000 acres of grain land last year, has part of this property already planted to young vines and will finish the work this winter. He has improved this land extensively and it is now an attractive country property, with its many buildings, including a large house and a barn.

He has installed pumping plants on the ranch which furnishes irrigation water for the growing vines. Glen Nelson is leveling 40 acres of new land. V. C. Clifford is leveling 120 acres, Rudy, 50 acres, and Buck 10 acres. Many other ranchers are also improving in various ways some with new buildings and others by additional planting of new lands.

VERY LOVELY

Wouldn't it be lovely if the rain came down now?

The water was quite high over all the town.

If the cars and buses all were set about,

And we had to go to school in a little boat.

Wouldn't it be lovely if it still should pour?

And we all went up to live on the second floor?

And we took the letters at the window, don't you?

It's been raining, raining all the afternoon.

All these things might happen really very soon.

If we woke tomorrow and found they had begun.

Wouldn't it be glorious? Wouldn't it be fun?

—Poeta "Fairies and Chimeras," by Rose M. Leman, George H. Doran Company.

PLAYING SAFE

"It is remarkable," said Mr. Oranier, "how mean some people are. I had with me on a fishing trip two friends, who evidently were familiar with my reputation as an angler."

"Before starting one of them made the following suggestion: 'We will keep that first man that catches a fish must treat the crowd.'"

"I assented to this, and we started. Now, these two fellows both had a bite, and were too mean to pull them up."

"I suppose you lost, then?" remarked the friend.

"Oh, no," replied Mr. Oranier, "I didn't have any bait on my hook."

JUST A TRIPLE

A middle-aged suburbanite, overtaken on an afternoon stroll by a young married friend who was taking a memory training course, inquired as to the progress the latter was making.

"Doing fine," was the reply. "I'll show you my progress—let me tell you while we are waiting."

But the last was hardly uttered when he made a light about face and returned at the double on his tracks.

In the evening he met the middle-aged friend who called to return to the punch.

"Thanks," smiled the owner. "I suppose you wonder why I left you so abruptly. Law of association—worked beautifully. The word 'punch' followed by preambulate, reminded me of something."

—Important—

"Well—yes, don't breathe a word to the wife, I'd left the preambulator outside the tobacco store and the lady was in it."

WHO'S NEXT?

They were telling fish stories at the Athletic Club and each was bigger and stronger than his ancestors.

Finally "Catalina" Wristley laid aside his gun and asked his contribution.

"I don't want to appear to advertise the Catalina," he said, "but just after I bought the fish I went out in one of the fish fishing steamers."

And threw a line overboard to see what I could land.

"Almost instantly we got a bite, but the whole ten of us couldn't pull in the line. Finally we hit on the plan of securing it to the steam windlass, but would you believe it the boat went stock still. Then suddenly gave a tremendous lurch, the line parted and the monster escaped."

"Must have been a whale," said Frank Starbuck politely.

"A whale nothing," retorted Wristley. "We used a whole lot of bait!"

CHEAPEST COMMODITY IN WORLD

"Washing is cheap," is an old expression which has been shaken up by cloths of the last four years. A man used to walk, say eight or ten blocks to "save a picket."

But the heavy load just placed on time today actually makes washing expensive. These were never as valuable as it is today.

A few minutes of work today means enough earned to provide a ride of many miles. The average man, by steady walking, will do three miles in an hour.

By walking ten hours, he could go to about thirty miles. In less than one hour the trolley car may carry him the entire distance. The street railway has succeeded in places in raising its rates to keep in tune with the pump in everything. There is nothing cheaper in the world today than modern street transportation.

Practice Economy by Using the Sandstrom Scraper

The Sandstrom Scraper, simple in its design and rugged in its construction, has many advantages when used with any light tractor.

It is easily operated by the tractor driver.

The wheels follow in rear of the blade instead of at the sides where they have a smooth even track to run over thus making a perfect finishing job possible. A Sandstrom Scraper, used with a light tractor will do the work of two or three four-horse teams.

We also carry in stock--

LOOK

--into the Future--

Think

There is big money to be made in this community in the future. Put on your thinking cap right now and don't let opportunity pass you by.

Hundreds, yes thousands, have become independent by buying raw land at a low price and developing it. There is still a chance for you to do the same.

RAW LAND at $200 an Acre

Yes, we have raw land at this low price and GOOD raw land as you will agree when you look it over.

We have a considerable acreage in the famous Biola and Vinland district which we can offer at $200 an acre and the most reasonable terms ever made on a dependable proposition.

Riches Are Within Your Grasp

If you had bought raw land a few years ago and developed it you would be rich today.

The same opportunity is here right now. Riches are within your grasp if you only take quick action. You cannot delay however as there is not very much raw land available at this low price any more.

FINE EDIFICES BEING ERECTED

Splendid Buildings Are Now Rising in All Parts of Taft

TAFT, Oct. 10.—Since Taft became a town, and later an incorporated city of the sixth class, never has there been such a large number of wood and substantial buildings erected in all parts of the city. Men and material are in constant demand, with the result no one who wants a job with work attached need be idle.

The firm of a few months ago caused the beautiful and imposing structure at the corner of Center and Fourth street to be erected by L. F. Krekel. The masonry, however, completed the second story, and carpenters are busy on the partitions. In a very short time the entire building will be ready for occupancy.

Adjoining is the Hotel & Painter two-story structure. Workmen are rushing the brick work of the east wall and the front and rear, which, like the Krekel building, will cover the entire lot of 50x125.

The basement of the George J. Jamming building, about 100x100, completed, so far as removing the dirt is concerned. Concrete workers will at once begin on that, and as soon as completed brick layers will be at work. The building will be two stories and cover the entire lot.

The Spacy building, on the corner of the alley on Fourth street, opposite the Hotel Fox, and which was destroyed during the conflagration has been completed to the second story. After the completion of the interior of this floor, the second story will be built.

Notwithstanding the effort to keep all the business confined to the blocks between Third and Sixth streets, new buildings and new enterprises are opening to the west of Sixth on Center.

W. B. Struckhoff took a long shot and has erected a plaster structure, 50x50, on the corner of Center and Seventh streets. He was forced to take this step after disposing of the lease he held on the southwest corner of Center and Third to the Anderson automobile agency, which is to occupy it as a sales room on November 1st. Struckhoff's auto top and repair shop is to occupy the new building, which is plastered and is fireproof, where he will be better equipped to serve his large number of patrons.

At the rear of his business building, Mr. Struckhoff has had erected a four-room bungalow, with bath and front porch, and built for comfort and convenience. Mrs. Struckhoff and children are with her parents in Centralia, Ill., where she is recuperating from a serious operation which she submitted to several weeks ago in St. Louis. She expects when her husband goes after her and brings her to Taft during the holidays, she will be a very much surprised as well as delighted wife when she is ushered into her new home.

Contractor E. F. Hinkler is to begin at once the erection of a blacksmith and woodworking shop adjoining the Struckhoff building on the west, and which he will occupy himself. Joe Diebstadt, the tailor, owns two lots adjoining his shop and home, and contemplates having a building erected there for a variety of uses. E. L. Suleman, who recently erected a large repair shop on the lot adjoining his office on Center, near the gas office, has discovered that he is shy of room to meet the increasing demands for his work. He has decided the erection of a 25x35 addition and will have it ready for occupancy in a short time.

J. D. Peterson of the Midway Driller, who owns a lot adjoining the Spacy building, contemplates erecting a dwelling on the rear of the premises at an early date. It will be for rental purposes.

All of which goes to show that Taft is growing, and in order to meet the increasing West Coast trade in oil and business will naturally extend in that direction. This fact will be somewhat unmentioned when the community buildings, which will cover four lots at the corner of Eighth, 10th, under way, in the near future.

WE'LL PLANT THE FRUIT OF YOUR CHOICE

---AND TURN IT OVER TO YOU A PRACTICALLY PRODUCING PLACE

Your dream of prosperity and plenty can be made a reality at Planada, and with very little effort at that.

All you have to do is to buy the place and tell us what you want to grow and we will do the rest. We will do the planting, the cultivating, irrigating and turn it over to you a practically producing place with a perfect stand of trees or vines guaranteed. We charge no interest or taxes for four years and at the end of that time your place will give you a start in life that could be had in no other way.

Every Condition Is Right for Success at Planada

Take every condition as you come to it and you will find them all ideal. The soil is perfect, found so by dozens of chemists; water is here in plenty as is proven on all sides; the weather conditions are just right; the location is ideal, being on the main line of the Santa Fe, which affords easy marketing of crops; the town of Planada with its stores, hotels and schools lies right in the middle of the tract; paved highway leads right to the tract; everything in fact is just as if it had been ordered so. All that is necessary is to plow and plant the land, which we do for you, and wait a few short years and success is yours.

Dr. Elwood Mead Says James Ranch One of Best in State

E. O. McCormick, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, in his private car, accompanied by Elwood Mead, of Mead, of the State Land Settlement, and C. L. R. Marshall, the irrigation man, who have a large plan for providing the entire central portion of the state with a water system, made a tour of inspection of the James Ranch this week, and later visited other sections of the Valley. Mr. Mead declared the James ranch colony to be one of the most modern and progressive and best equipped colonies anywhere in the state, and excepting those of his own making at Irrigation and Delta, and Mr. McCormick stated there was nothing he had seen from coast to coast that was up to this colony in point of accomplishment in the space of one year.

The rice harvest is now on at the ranch, and an average crop of 45 to 50 sacks to the acre is being taken from the fields. A 200-acre tract, being leveled for the crop next year.

Sales for the past two weeks amount to approximately $20,000. Among the purchasers are the following: R. J. Wilkerson, Sanger; L. L. Lane, Fresno; W. H. Seymour, Helms; William Ingels, Los Angeles; A. M. Shadle, San Fernando; J. S. Muller, Fresno; E. J. Jones, Fresno; Nels Hanson, Fresno; R. A. White, Fresno; John Dunn, Selma; W. A. Graves, Fresno; Fred Fox, Fresno; John Postales, Fresno; George Lane, Fresno.

Novel Milking Shed From the Antipodes

The state department of agriculture, Imperial Valley, reports that Mr. William Palmer, of California, has a novel type of milking shed that is becoming the property of various dairymen and others who have seen it.

Mr. Palmer has a herd of some sixty or seventy cows. His milking shed is a building which is divided into six stalls. The cows enter the stalls, and after being milked, pass on through doors in the front of the shed which are opened by means of a lever from the other side of the shed. The cows turn back their places so that there is no loss of time. They are milked by machine directly into pails which are placed in the milk house. Mr. Palmer has been using this system for some six months of a year and reports that the cows are readily trained to follow each other into the stalls and that he is well pleased with the plan.

While this system is a novelty in this state, it appears that it is by no means a novelty in other countries. Information is that a gentleman of New Zealand devised it some twenty years ago, and that it has been very common use in both Australia and New Zealand. In fact, it is reported that practically all the milking sheds of New Zealand are of this type, and that they are adapted both for machine and hand milking. Because of the simplicity of construction, these and here it is thought that those who have improved the idea that the plan is suitable for California.

Bovine, Human Tuberculosis

The relation of tuberculosis, as discovered by Robert Koch in 1882. This discovery, together with its constant association with tuberculosis of all animals, has led to the conclusion that the disease is caused by a bacillus, on species to the other. Later, Koch advanced the theory that a difference existed between animal and human tuberculosis. His contention has been widely accepted, and it is now generally held that the disease is transmitted from man to man, and from man to animal, and from animal to animal. It is impossible at this time to award one as being separate and distinct from the other. With all the available evidence, it is safe to conclude that although, in the great majority of cases, tuberculosis is transmitted from man to man, it is also transmitted from man to animal, and from animal to animal. It is also transmitted from animal to man, and from man to animal. It is also transmitted from animal to animal, and from animal to man, and from man to animal.

Trotsky Active In South Russ Front

SEBASTOPOL, Oct. 29.—Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik minister of war, who is directing the operations of the Red troops in the South, has visited points along the Dnieper front. It was he who ordered the concentrated effort, which resulted in the evacuation of Alexandrovsk by the forces of General Wrangel. A daring landing has been made at Alushta, in the Crimea, by three Red regiments calling themselves an independent army.

Married Collaborators Rare in Literature

The deaths of Herbert Castle and Mrs. S. Williamson, which occurred within a few recent weeks, removed the male halves of the most popular literary collaborations between husband and wife. These coincidences besides the closeness of their deaths, which were about the same, (Castle was 64, Williamson 61, both were Englishmen. Both were University men; Castle, Trinity College, Cambridge; Williamson, University College, London. Both went in for subjects, but abandoned their journalism in their early twenties. Castle served eleven years on the Saturday Review, and became part owner of the Liverpool Mercury. Williamson spent eight years on the Graphic, and was the founder of Black and White.

Popularity was Herbert Castle's without the aid of Agnes. She had on hand in "The Light of St. Michael," which he wrote, twenty-five years ago. But there is no doubt that she owed much to his popularity. Her first literary partnership with him was in "The White of the Eye," published in 1895. Before they wrote the "Book of the Year," which they illustrated with Lewis Robinson under the name of "The White of the Eye." The list of the Castle books is long, and Mrs. Castle is represented in the most profitable, and indeed, the best. For "The Light of St. Michael," their last work is regarded most seriously by most readers. The novels which preceded it from the same double pen.

In this country, where both the Castle and the Williamson books have been known for many years, the fact that they were written by a husband and wife is a novelty. The fact that they were written by a husband and wife is a novelty. The fact that they were written by a husband and wife is a novelty.

granddaughter of the chancellor. Before the Williamson collaboration, Mr. Williamson had done nothing in the way of a book except a life of Carlyle. Unlike the case of the Castles, here the greater imaginative faculty was on the husband side. All the group of "motor car novels," which began with "The Lightning Conductor" in 1901, have the woman's touch strongly shown. Mrs. Williamson wrote two novels alone. Mr. Williamson wrote none.

The Castles were very successful because they touched the strings of old romance in a period when the universal public "yearned" for anything that had a sword, a heart, and a noble phrase in it; a period that found a welcome for even such a "wretched" novel as "When Knighthood Was in Flower." The Williamson won their popularity because they took up with a novelty, as the motor car was in 1903, and made it romantic. The public wanted to motor, if even only in a vicarious way. Just as it wanted to be romantic, even if only through the printed page. So the Williamson and the Castle books each filled a popular want of the time.

There have been a good many married collaborators, and it is strange that there have not been more. In comparatively few cases have husband and wife so combined their work in literature as "The Light of St. Michael." The Thomson-Satons collaborated in making books, but the wife kept to the art side, the husband to the letters. Joseph Pennington illustrated his wife's books of travel, and rare three or four couples in America who share 50-50 the mental agency of writing and the physical labor of typing light fiction. These included Ethel and James Dugan, Robert and Katherine Pinkerton, and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Gower.

Perhaps the reason why there are not more collaborating pairs is that the literary family in writing tends naturally to speciality. A good many writers, once they have talked a plot, cannot write it with the zeal it deserves. This story has been told. Your average novelist prefers to write his book in secret and then to the completed work on his wife. She invariably approves.

A law providing for ratification has been introduced in the Hungarian parliament.

INDIAN NAMES SURPRISE

The supervisor in charge of the Blackfoot agency at Browning, Mont., has issued a circular advertising for sale certain Indian lands. The list of allottees shows that the years have not driven out all the picturesque Indian names. There are Chief All Over and Richard Cult-Full and Black-Ket-Woman Don't-Go-Out among the old fashioned kind. But what sort of a name is Everybody-Looks-at-Me? And Annie-Ridea at the Deer might be the title of a poem. Lucy-Iron-Bater is no name for a gentle lady, but it is easier to write than Stellas-in-Top Morning-Engle. Perfected Russell has a Puritan sound. Chippling-Too-Deep-Nights-Shoots is the deep for us. New York Evening Sun.

Demonstration Vineyards

Mentor has been made by the area of the demonstration vineyards, which are to be operated by the growers under the direction and personal advice of the Division of Viticulture, California State Agricultural College. Under which plan all of the operations of the vineyards are to be applied for the benefit of the growers throughout the district. While the plan is without doubt a praise-worthy one, and could be carried out to the advantage of those growers who are unfamiliar with the work-a-day problems of viticulture, another and perhaps more advantageous plan has recently been suggested. This plan ranges for the keeping of these Federal Experiment Stations engaged in solving viticultural problems, which, owing to inadequate funds, would otherwise be abandoned by the United States Department of Agriculture. From George C. Bushman, "under whose direction the viticultural research work is being carried on," and who is at present here from Washington, D. C., on his annual trip of inspection of the Pacific coast, we learn that the grape work of the United States Department of Agriculture is undergoing entire reorganization, having for its object the elimination of all of the department's outlying and small experiment vineyards, and their concentration into a few broad research and experiment stations of a permanent nature. One of these places it is desirable to locate somewhere in the main producing section, and another in the dry, irrigated section adjacent to San Francisco Bay.

The prohibition amendment has suddenly thrown the grape industry into uncharted waters. It is now to face with most vital problems. Were it not for the short crop of grapes and the regulation of the Federal Prohibition Commission, permitting the home manufacture of light wines from grapes, the demand for wine grapes would not be what it is this year, nor would such high prices prevail. Who knows what another year will bring? This is one of the serious problems that is now being investigated by the United States Department of Agriculture. Another equally serious, it not even more serious, problem is that of curtailing the spread of California of the grape root louse, Phylloxera viticola. This pest has already laid waste a large number of vineyards in the "wine grape" sections of California, and it is now being investigated by the United States Department of Agriculture. ## POULTRY-CULLING HENS

BY H. A. WEINLAND
Sonoma County Agent

Probably never before in the history of the poultry industry has the subject of culling the hen been so much greater interest or demanded more attention among the poultrymen than at the present. With the price of eggs lower considerably in proportion than it should be, poultrymen are facing a very serious period. How to lower costs and increase production is the big question.

EVERY POULTRYMAN CULLS.
Every poultryman who has been in the business for any length of time at all has realized the value and the necessity of culling and culling regularly. The question of the advisability of culling is no longer a question, but only when and how.

WHEN TO CULL.
The answer to this question can be given easily by anyone who has been in the business for any length of time at all. Every good poultryman takes the best out of his flock whenever that best indicates that it is not doing what he is paid to do. This process starts with the first day out of the incubator and continues throughout the life of the flock. In general, however, it may be said that the best culling is done through the summer months. That is, from the period following the egg-laying season of most flocks and before the period of lowest production, it is the easiest time for the poultryman to decide what hens to eliminate.

HOW TO CULL.
Books have been written and shelves filled with bulletins on this subject. Consequently what little can be said here can be but a summary. First it might be said that any practical poultryman can divide his flock into two parts—those that are first class layers, those that are distinct culs, and the third and probably largest class, those whose production is doubtful, probably fairly good birds, but may not be quite paying their costs. How to eliminate from this class the low producers is the problem.

USE ALL TESTS.
It is good advice to use all authoritative indications and tests in segregation. Advocates of one or another method will, very often, lose out when it comes to the doubtful class.

POINTS TO CONSIDER.
Three important points should be considered by every poultryman. First, constitution—whether the hen is built to be an efficient egg-laying machine or whether her body is only sufficient to maintain a small amount of feed over and above her own needs. This is indicated by weight and size of body, depth, length, etc. Laying habit, which is also important, is very seldom found

In a flighty-like eye, well-shaped head, short blunt beak, full red comb are all indicative of production. Capacity for egg laying is probably the second most important point. The well known Hooten test is the basis of this, being principally the distance between the keel and pelvic bones, together with their shape and sharpness. Thick bones being unfavorable to heavy production. A relatively long, sharp keel bone should also be looked for.

PERFORMANCE TEST DESIRABLE.
While constitution and capacity are valuable indicators, performance is the thing that counts. Trap nests are out of the question for the average poultryman, so he must rely on the next best evidence. The simplest test is by far the most practical of these. In case of the Lecithin (laid) egg having passed the yellow pigment, heaven the body in the following order: First, vent; then, ear-lobe; neck; back; and finally shanks. Hens with yellow loes, therefore, toward the end of the laying season are probably low producers.

Times of laying, tells much also. The early motters often lay the early motters of the flocks usually in the early part of the season. Finally, the following recommendations can in general be adapted to the present conditions. Give consideration to all of the above mentioned tests, don't be afraid to sell low prices, but be sure you are getting what you are not paying for. Keep them happy for prices to rise.

BUREAU ELECTS SAME OFFICERS

Confidence Is Shown By Overwhelming Vote of Members

(Special to The Republican) BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 30.—The officers of the Bakersfield bureau of the National Association of Manufacturers were elected today by an overwhelming vote. ## Electric Pumping Plants

Tested to Meet Your Requirements
Buy a Fresno Agricultural Works' Direct Connected Centrifugal Pump of us with a Fairbanks-Morse or Westinghouse Motor, and you will get a tested plant, built to order and tested on a well in the factory under the exact conditions it will be required to operate in your place. It stands to reason that stock pumps which are not tested, cannot be as efficient as these tested pumping plants. And then, too, you can always get both extra and service quickly on Fresno Agricultural Works' Pumps.

When Fungus Eats Peach

Test for the fungus, tough on the peach, and takes the orchardist's profits. All this you know if you have failed to spray your trees before the arrival of heavy winter rains during the dormant season.

California Peach Blight, curl leaf and other diseases take this time of the year to get a good start on deciduous trees. But they are forced to quit before their attack is fairly under way when they find an orchard in which the owner had the foresight to

PEACH AND FIG ASSN. BREEDING FANCY WASPS

Close inspection of the two photographs shows the tiny wasps that are to be bred by the Peach and Fig Association. The upper photo shows the insects clustered over the fig, and the lower photo, greatly enlarged, shows the blastophaga operating within the fig.

The largest fancy breeding project of the kind in the world was announced this week by the California Peach and Fig Growers' Association. The project is to breed the wasps that are to be used in the production of the fig, a matter of fact, it is a different way of getting "stung." Little by little, the peach and fig association is spending its money to raise wasps which are to sting figs for the growers.

Anticipating the day when thousands of acres of figs will be raised in the valley, the fig association is beginning to grow on a large scale the little wasps which are necessary to the fig producer.

Of the acreage bought by the association, about 50 acres is suitable for the figs and this is being planted to figs this winter.

It is a grower's opinion that this step is of great importance to the fig industry, as it will not only insure the grower with which to supply their California figs, but will insure them a crop of figs at a reasonable price.

Said Nilsen yesterday: "The figs," he continued, "were selected after careful investigation because of soil conditions and its favorable location, being well protected and free from frost. At the end of four years these trees will begin to produce and they will increase rapidly in production each year."

ing for the future of the fig industry. Nilsen continued: "It has been difficult in the past for growers to obtain sufficient quantities with which to begin their crops and in view of this fact, and of the very large acreage, that will come into bearing within the next five or six years, we decided to take immediate steps to protect the industry by planting a capri orchard."

Unless the association proceeds in advance for the day when the vast acreages of figs come into bearing, the time will come when blastophaga will be worth just about their weight in radium and the individual grower who is provided with a "private stock" will be in a position to exploit his less fortunate neighbors.

The history of how this unique co-ordination between the natural and vegetable world, in which the blastophaga wasp is used to bring the Smyrna fig to maturity and production, became known, is interestingly related by Prof. Louis Condit.

He says: "For many centuries the fig has been grown in a small valley of Asia Minor, a type of fig known as the Smyrna, so-called from the seaport where the figs are packed and shipped. It was known that the native growers of Smyrna raised a parasite in the spring of the year of suspending wild figs, or caprifigs, in the trees. From these caprifigs they tested hundreds of small insects or wasps known collectively as blastophaga grossorum, which entered the eye of the Smyrna fig, causing the fruit to set. In case this operation was neglected the small Smyrna figs soon turned yellow and dropped off causing a crop the preceding year.

Begin Growing Capri Figs

In 1908 the department of agriculture recognized the importance of providing the wasps for the fig industry, and leased the Lompoc fig orchard, where, each year, thousands of caprifigs were grown, for the benefit of growers.

The caprifig is a native or wild fig of southwest Asia and south-eastern Europe, says a review published by Condit. The gallflowers of the caprifig serve as the home or place of development of the larvae of the fig wasps in all crops of the tree. The caprifigs are mostly inedible on account of the presence of the insects and the mass of dry male flowers near the eye.

Continuing, Condit says:

"We may now understand why the tropics, plus which drop may be of the Smyrna fig, the fruit of which require caprification in order to set and remain on the tree. They may be of the caprifig class, the fruit of which drop unless debilitated by the fig insects, or they may be common figs which drop because of unsuitable climatic conditions. The presence of the parasite of the fig wasp in the gall flowers of the caprifig is just as essential in making the fig remain on the tree as the caprification of the Smyrna fig is necessary to make it develop. The dropping of caprifigs can only be prevented by subduing the figs at the proper time with the fig wasps."

GETTING EVEN

The judge had never taken a Turkish bath, but he was not feeling his best one morning, and it suddenly occurred to him to test its revivifying effects. It seemed to him that the rubber-down was terribly rough, but, feeling his own ineffectiveness and subjecting himself to ridicule by objecting to the regular treatment he patiently endured being punched, pummed, slapped, spanked, whacked and poked, until he could stand the torture no longer.

"It is quite necessary for me to take some black and blue all over,"

"Never you mind, I'm fixing you," responded the rubber-down, recoubling his assault, and attacking diagonally at least, so it seemed to the judge.

"Who (snaps) around are (thud, crash) you?" asked the judge, a horrible snarl, a snarl, a snarl, a snarl.

"You (thud, crash) here (thud, crash) around does look (snaps, bang) familiar."

"Oh, you remember me, do you?" growled the rubber-down, sarcastically.

"Well, perhaps you'd like to send me to spend for six months in the penitentiary."

MODERN IDEA.

To one of the classes at the Logan street school the teacher tried the experiment of seeing how many of the children had any knowledge of the time-worn sayings of their grandparents.

"What is it that you make?" she asked one little girl. "I don't know," confessed the child. "Oh, yes you do," insisted the teacher. "Now think hard—the leathers make fine what?"

"Bees," cried the child, and how could the teacher declare the answer wrong?

TO SEE BEHIND.

A rather green-looking chap went into one of the department stores the other day, and enquiring up to the counter where dozens of men's caps were displayed, he looked carefully through the stock, but seemed unable to find what he wanted.

"Just what kind of a cap are you looking for?" asked the salesman at length.

"Well," said the youth, "I bought me a motorcycle the other day, and I thought I'd like one of those caps with a peak at the back."

VOTE "YES" On Amendment No. 6

—More than 90,000 public spirited citizens signed petitions to get this Amendment on the ballot.

—"Amendment No. 6—Prohibiting Compulsory Vaccination" was sponsored by the Public School Protective League.

—This proposed Amendment will do one thing only—it permits a well and healthy child to attend school or university without being vaccinated.

—And it will not prevent anybody from being vaccinated if they want to be.

—The objections against compulsory vaccination are too obvious for recital here.

—Statistics in England show that more lives are destroyed by vaccination than by smallpox.

—So be sure to vote "Yes" on Amendment No. 6 next Tuesday and help those who are trying to protect their children.

6	PROHIBITING COMPULSORY VACCINATION.—Article IX, measure adding Section 15 to Article IX of Constitution. Declares that no form of vaccination, inoculation or other medication shall hereafter be made a condition for admission to or attendance in any public school, college, university or other educational institution in this state, or for the employment of any person in any public office, and that the provisions of this section shall not be controlled or limited by any other provision of the Constitution. ## Vote Yes On No. 12

1--Keep the University in the Hands of the People

2--Keep Education in California Free

3--Provide An Adequate Permanent Support for the University

It is insinuated that this amendment will take the University out of the hands of the people. This is not so, which is better that the finances of our University be in the hands of a Board of Control—three persons appointed by the Governor, but not in touch with the University—or a Board of Regents 16 of whom are also appointed by the Governor and 9 whom industry elected who are constantly in intimate touch with the University? Will it cost the taxpayers more? No! For it is an economic fact that indirect taxes cost the citizens more than direct taxes.

Preserve free education—the bulwark of America—by voting Yes for No. 12.
